POWER PLANT PETITIONS GIVEN TO COUNCIL

Kiwanis Club Committee Urges Protection From Electrical Shortage

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

The petitions prepared by an emergency committee of the Kiwanis club, and signed by several thousand residents of Glendale, asking the City Council to take immediate steps to relieve the light and power situation by installing auxiliary engines or arrange for a municipal power plant, were presented to the council this morning by A. L. Baird, president of the Kiwanis club.

The petitions were accepted by the City Council and filed and will later be referred to the subcommittee of the Citizens' Bond committee, following the motion of Councilman C. E. Kimlin.

Not Out For Glory

Mr. Baird, in presenting the petitions, said:

"The Kiwanis club does not want to take any glory or credit, nor does the club desire to do anything that will be detrimental to the city and to the people of Glendale. The special committee which was appointed last Friday by Dr. T. C. Young, acting president of the club in my absence, is only serving in an emergency.

"The members of this committee, like other residents of Glendale, felt the need of relief from the power and light shortage. It was not working against any organization or against any individual. On these petitions you will find the signatures of several thousand Glendale citizens, business men, heads of industries and residents, all of whom have felt that the present situation calls for action."

Await Bond Committee

Mayor Spencer Robinson then thanked Mr. Baird, the members of the Kiwanis committee and all persons who signed the petition. City Manager V. B. Stone, when called upon by Mayor Robinson for any suggestions he had to make in the matter, said:

"I also want to add my thanks to those of the mayor. We are indeed glad to learn that the residents of Glendale are backing us in an effort to help them in this present emergency. There is a sub-committee of the Citizens' Bond committee, the members of which have been making exhaustive investigations. The report of this sub-committee has not been made as yet. I would suggest these petitions be held until that report is made."

"When will that report be made?" Mayor Robinson asked the city manager.

Urges More Action

"The matter is in their hands. I cannot say when the report will be ready, but I do know they are working hard on the question," Manager Stone replied. Mayor Robinson then suggested that City Manager Stone hustle up the work of the committee, in order that the report could be made as soon as possible.

"The City Council is trying to co-operate with the people," Mayor Robinson continued, "and with the committee, and we know the people and the committee are co-operating with the City Council. This fact will help to hasten matters.

"We do not want to get something that we do not want. Some think an auxiliary engine would solve the question, while others believe a municipal plant costing thousands of dollars should be built. The City Council is working hard to push this matter along as fast as possible."

Employes Laid Off

R. Belcher, representing the Southeast Glendale Improvement association, was recognized by the mayor, and said:

"I would like to report to the council the action of the Citizens' Bond committee yesterday morning. The committee urged immediate action, but felt that a bond issue would not bring immediate relief. We found that the Citizens' Bond committee does not have power to act, but do feel that immediate action should be taken."

Mr. Belcher then told of a factory near his residence, where it

FIRES EAT INTO PARKS

Many Thousand Acres Are Being Swept by Flames Throughout State

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Slight progress was reported today in the federal government's struggle against the disastrous forest fires which in many cases have defied the efforts of thousands of fire fighters to bring them under control in various portions of California.

Of the four large blazes which are eating their way into national forest reserves, that in the Trinity national forest on Papoose creek territory was the only one reported to be under control.

Large Area Swept

Tens of thousands of acres of forest lands have been reduced to wastes and untold thousands more are menaced in the three uncontrolled conflagrations now raging in Plumas, Tahoe and Sequoia national forests, the district forester's office declared today.

Prediction was made that the present total of 68,000 acres ravaged to date would be swelled to more than 100,000 by the time the present major blazes and smaller ones have been brought under control.

This would be one of the largest totals up to this time of year ever exacted in the state, it was said.

Situation Critical

Officials reported the situation, generally, apart from the fires now in progress, to be more than critical, because of the extended drought and the fact that July, August and September are always dangerous months, the possibility being that considerably more than the 634 fires reported to date this year will break out before the autumn rains.

Twelve laborers who refused to work further in fighting fires in the hills back of Oakland were under arrest, following placing of misdemeanor charges against them by officials in charge, who are authorized to conscript men.

San Francisco Boat Is Winner of Cup In Race

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Arthur Rousseau's champion R. boat, Lady Gay, defeated Ven Weston's Los Angeles challenger, Debra, by the wide margin of six minutes, 19 seconds today before a large crowd over the fourteen-mile triangular course in the bay, thereby returning to this city the perpetual challenge cup at present held by the California Yacht club of the southern city. The winning time was two hours, 21 minutes and nine seconds.

HIGH SCHOOL BUDGET IS OUTLINED

Estimates Call for Total Expenditure of $506,925 In Coming Term

The 1924-25 Glendale Union High school budget calls for an expenditure of $506,925, according to estimates prepared by George U. Moyse, principal, and Irving H. Oliver, business manager. The main items are as follows:

General contract	$ 27,900
Teachers' salaries	285,875
Current expenses	15,250
Operation of plant	42,000
General maintenance	24,500
Insurance	5,000
Auxiliary agencies	16,400
Laboratory supplies	8,000
Books and apparatus	17,000
Capitol and improvements	65,000
Total	$506,925

Source of Income

This income is derived from state, county and district funds. The state and county funds are on an attendance basis. The district funds are obtained on a basis of 75 cents on each $100 assessed valuation.

Mr. Moyse states that the total enrollment of the Glendale Union High school is 3591 pupils, made up of 2282 day school and 1309 night school pupils. The average daily attendance for the term just closed was 1801 pupils, he states, from which it is seen that Glendale's High school plant is one of the largest in Southern California.

NEW YORK, July 3.—With the delegates hourly becoming more restless as the deadlock continues, "the folks back home" are also voicing their protest of the delay in agreeing on a Democratic presidential nominee. "Crops going to weeds. Children running wild. Wives no longer speak to their husbands. Nominate or adjourn."

Ships and Oil Docks Menaced In Port Fire

SAN PEDRO, July 3.—Boiling tar started a fire on the new Los Angeles municipal pier, Mormon island, this morning, that did $60,000 damage before it was extinguished. Several large steamers were periled by the blaze which for a time threatened to spread to the Shell Oil company docks where much oil is stored.

All available fire fighting equipment of the harbor district was called out and four firemen were overcome by smoke in the battle with the blaze. Battalion Chief Baly saved Fireman Bafs who fell from the pier into the water twenty feet below and was unable to swim because of his smoke helmet.

Head of Committee Issues Warning of Danger From Fire

W. J. Curren, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce fire committee, issues the following warning regarding the danger of fire and especially that attending the setting off of fireworks on the Fourth of July.

Be careful of all fires.

Burn rubbish early in the morning and particularly when no breeze or wind is blowing.

Keep your hose attached to water faucet ready for immediate use.

Wet down your yard and all danger spots.

The shooting of fireworks is prohibited by law in the City of Glendale, Pasadena and Los Angeles, and other cities.

If you must shoot fireworks do not shoot fire crackers or sky rockets, which are the most dangerous.

Do not shoot any fireworks from moving automobiles anywhere.

A penny fire cracker may destroy your home and city.

Safety first—not safety last.

ENDORSE SKYLINE HIGHWAY FROM CITY INTO SUNLAND

Project Includes Annexation to Glendale of 12 Square Miles of Territory; Details of Big Improvement Now Being Worked Out

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

The proposal to build a skyline boulevard along the crest of the Verdugo hills from Glendale to Sunland, annexing for this purpose twelve square miles of this magnificent watershed, was launched last night before a gathering of men and women representing the Glendale City Council, Planning Commission, Chamber of Commerce, Tujunga and Sunland property owners, and Southern California real estate men whose ownerships comprise a major portion of the territory involved in the project.

Plans for this long-dreamed scenic boulevard were launched by M. Walters of the Barnum-Walters company, following an automobile tour of Sparr Heights and an outdoor steak dinner atop a rounded knoll at the west end of the tract.

Dream, Then Reality

"Any big venture requires a dreamer first," Mr. Walters stated in his opening remarks. "We have dreamed of a skyline boulevard that would tie in with Glendale all this great empire of green hills northwest of us. Hollywood has solved the problem with its hills and we can do the same with ours."

He then introduced Harry H. Merrick of Merrick & Ruddick, Inc., prominent subdivision realtors whose Hollywood tracts are well known. Mr. Merrick traced the history of the Mulholland Skyline drive, which a year and a half ago was a dream and today is over half finished and going forward at the rate of a mile a week.

Plans to Finance

The entire twenty-eight miles of this drive will be completed by December 1, he said, at a total cost of $850,000. To finance this project, 55,000 acres were bonded for $1,000,000, over a period of forty years, not under the Vrooman act, but on an ad valorem tax basis. This, he said, makes the developing territory in the vicinity of the improvement constantly bear its proportionate share of the whole, which reduces the burden of the already developed property.

Mr. Merrick stated that of the $1,000,000 which was raised for construction of the Mulholland Skyline drive, $150,000 would remain for future improvements, after completion of the work. The bonds were placed on the market at 101 per cent, he said.

Value of Highway

"You have a far greater proportion of decomposed granite in the Verdugo hills than we have in the Hollywood hills," he said, "and I predict you will require no retaining walls. We have none, and at no point along the entire twenty-

Hundred Day Extension Granted By Council On Sycamore Canyon Paving

The Glendale City Council this morning granted Peter L. Ferry an extension of 100 days on his contract to pave Sycamore Canyon road, following a statement by Mr. Ferry that everything possible is being done to push this work. The road will be fully improved by fall, he said.

An ordinance granting the Union Pacific Railroad company permission to build a spur track on North Glendale avenue was passed. The ordinance granting Los Angeles the right to construct certain sewers within the Glendale city limits, in accordance with the terms of the contract entered into between the two municipalities, was held over until Thursday, July 10.

Hearings on the establishment of certain commercial districts, along Central avenue, between Garfield avenue and Windsor road; and at the Union Pacific yards, were set ahead to July 10. The city attorney was ordered to draft proceedings for the establishment of an industrial district on the west side of the Southern Pacific tracks, and for the removal from the first class district of a certain section at Chester and Doran streets.

Protests Are Denied

All protests were denied against the issuance of bonds for the improvement of Glendale and Palmer avenues; all protests were denied against the improvement of Sierra avenue, Adams street and Tyler street; and protest against the assessment for the improvement of Adams street was denied. Extension of contract until July 23 was given on the construction of the Vine street extension reservoir.

Resolutions were adopted ordering the improvement of Sierra avenue, Tyler street and Adams street, authorizing bonds for the improvement of Glendale avenue and Palmer avenue; and adopting plans for the improvement of Spazier, Elm, Bonnie Brae streets and Kenilworth avenue.

Radio to Be Factor In La Follette Race

CLEVELAND, July 3.—The personal campaign of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, as an independent candidate for the presidency will be fought chiefly over the radio, it was learned here today.

Because of his age La Follette has informed his managers that he intends to make few long trips and to make most of his personal appeals for votes over the air. La Follette's headquarters will be in Chicago.

This news transmitted privately today to leaders of the conference for progressive political action, which will endorse La Follette for the presidency, settled the question of whether the militant Wisconsin progressive would enter the race.

Machine Gun Shipment For Soviet Is Seized

LONDON, July 3.—Two tons of contraband machine guns, consigned to Leningrad, Russia, for the soviet, have been seized by the British authorities, it was learned this afternoon.

One shipment of arms is said to have got away before the plot was discovered.

Anti-Russian newspapers hint that the Russian delegates who came here to attend the Anglo-Russian treaty conference were involved.

COMPROMISE CANDIDATE REQUIRED

McAdoo or Smith Not Able To Win Sufficient Votes, Says David Lawrence

By DAVID LAWRENCE
By Special Leased Wire to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, July 3.—The three cornered deadlock in the Democratic National Convention has gone so far that only a conference of leaders can break it up and bring about the nomination of a compromise candidate.

The latest plan is for a conference of the chairmen of all delegations to be addressed by former Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio, William Jennings Bryan and prominent Democratic members of Congress in order to determine a course of action.

Bryan Fights Smith

New York state is understood to be taking the initiative in bringing about the conference as the empire state leaders think that in a straight-out discussion across the table, they can demonstrate how excellent would be Smith's chances of election should he be nominated.

There is, on the other hand, unalterable opposition to Governor Smith from the dry wing of the party which comprises the west and the south. William Jennings Bryan, who has been ef-

ATTEMPT TO ELIMINATE LOW MAN IS MADE

McAdoo Forces Propose to Remove Last Candidate Until Three Left

NEW YORK, July 3—Deadlocked as tightly at the end of the fifty-fourth ballot late this afternoon as it was at the end of five on last Monday, the Democratic national convention adjourned at 4:25 this afternoon until 8:30 o'clock tonight, with McAdoo hovering around 424, Smith staying around 320 and Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana being given a trial heat to see how much speed he can develop.

Ralston polled 92 votes on the fifty-fourth ballot, his own Indiana delegation giving him 30, with Missouri and Mississippi and scattering votes making up the balance.

The Hoosier senator was the first of the "trial horses" called out. He failed to develop as much strength as expected by his handlers, although it was understood that Tom Taggart, his manager, had more votes in sight for his candidate than he revealed before adjournment.

Plan of Elimination

As a result of today's developments there was talk among the McAdoo leaders at adjournment of trying to bring in a resolution providing that after the sixtieth ballot the lowest man on each succeeding ballot be dropped, until only three are left, and this trio to fight it out.

The proposition was advanced by McAdoo's managers, but they found opposition to it everywhere. Smith people were contemptuous and the supporters of every dark horse in the Democratic stable were as cold as ice to it.

When adjournment came the McAdoo managers at once began concentrating upon the "little fellows" to agree to some such proposition.

Hopes For McAdoo

It is the theory of McAdoo managers that if the fight could be narrowed down to McAdoo and Smith alone, McAdoo could get a majority of the convention and bring tremendous moral pressure for the rest of the necessary two-thirds.

The anti-McAdoo leaders put forth tentative suggestions for an adjournment until 1 p. m. tomorrow to afford an opportunity for conferences to see if an agreement could not be reached, but the McAdoo managers were cold to this.

Deadlocked through fifty-one ballots with McAdoo's lead slowly being reduced, the convention began experimenting this afternoon in an effort to determine the strength of the various dark

The text of the telegram was withheld by the committee for publication tonight.

Fourth of July! Rah!
Duties of Citizenship
Evidence of Freedom
Glendale, American City

By Gil A. Cowan

Preparations for the celebration of the Fourth of July all over this southland call to mind the fact that Americans from babyhood like nothing better than to celebrate something!

And about the biggest thing it is possible for people to celebrate is the birthday of their nation. Think of it, a historical date in the world which spelled a new freedom with justice for all.

Fourth of July is a by-word, perhaps, to the younger generation, who only know it is a day of license for noise making. But in its din and colorful events it does instill love for country.

Tomorrow we should be retrospective, if the suggestion is in order. We should call to mind the things we as individuals have done to make this a better and more prosperous country.

For, if we do not pledge ourselves to the duties of citizenship and something more besides, this democracy in time shall perish from the earth.

However, there is little need to fear that the United States shall ever be overcome by any other form of government than that which today exists. With all its faults, it is the best the world has ever known.

Of course, that is not our conclusion alone. Experience with immigrants from other nations has taught us that only in freedom is there a true expression of the best.

America has freedom, political, economic and social.

Evidence the political freedom in the meeting of the Communists in St. Paul recently. The government made no effort to chastise these revolutionists. Likewise, they were quite at peace with government.

Evidence of economic freedom is Henry Ford, a poor mechanic three decades ago, becoming the world's richest man.

And evidence social freedom in the first lady of the land not knowing what house-servants were until she had entered the White House.

Glendale is a most American city. We have yet to find the resident who is so exclusive that he will not grant this writer an interview.

We should like to see ourselves talking with the Prince of Wales. Or bending our back to see King George.

At that some day we hope to give a right royal handshake to Edward Albert and tell him that the British empire is second best to America.

Tomorrow, however, it is America's great day. Let's celebrate.

Delegates Attending Pomona Church Meet

Misses Edith Sperry and Grace Miller of the First Congregational church of Glendale are among the 200 or more registered for the Congregational young people's conference at Pomona college, Claremont.

The conference opened officially Monday night with a reception. Delegations are in attendance from points as far north as Kern county and from San Diego, National City and Chula Vista on the south.

Air Service Lowers Time on Local Mail

An example of the time saved in handling mail by airplane was clearly demonstrated here when a letter mailed in Reno, Nev., in the afternoon reached Glendale the next morning, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. The letter left Reno on the westbound mail plane at 3:45 p. m. and was carried to San Francisco, where it was transferred to the Lark, Southern Pacific train, reaching Glendale at 9:30 a. m. the next day. Ordinary time for letters from Reno is close to thirty-six hours, while the air mail service cuts this time down to eighteen hours, Postmaster Jackson said.

CHURCH WORKERS WRITE OF INDIA

Letter From Missionaries Tells of Arrival at Eastern Post

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ogden of 524 West Colorado street, have just received a letter from their son G. B. Ogden, a missionary in India, telling of his and his family's safe arrival at Nasim Bagh, Kashmir.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogden served for seven years in the mission fields of India and enjoyed a furlough in America last year. They spent several months in Glendale with Mr. Ogden's parents.

The letter received was from Mrs. Ogden and told of traveling by rail from Kasganj to Rawal Pindi. The trip on to Kashmir was made part way in a large Overland car driven by a young Mohammedan.

Ideal Location

Mrs. Ogden writes, "Nasim Bagh is a grove, an ideal place for tenting. The ground is covered with grass, just like a lawn, fine and thick with clover. There are tremendous big chenar trees (leaf like the maple) planted a couple of hundred years ago. Mr. Ogden measured a tree twenty-one feet around the trunk. Dal lake is just in front of us and there are mountains on all sides, a line of shining snow-caps to the east."

With the exception of a few wild cats the remainder practically consisted of coyotes. More than 2,500 of these animals have been slaughtered by officials in Los Angeles, Kings, Merced and Contra Costa counties alone.

MRS. TOLL TELLS DUTIES OF CLUB

Explains How Organization Can Best Help Members; Conference Is Held

"A club has two very high duties to its members, first to give them the very best programs that can be secured, and, second, to help the members to develop themselves," Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, told Tuesday Afternoon club board members and curators of departments yesterday afternoon, when she accepted their invitation to meet them in conference at the clubhouse.

Other outstanding statements made by Mrs. Toll were: "Every club must be a self-governing body. The district desired to help in every way possible.

"Every organization at the beginning of each year strives for improvement.

"Programs must be compellingly interesting.

"A definite set of rules should govern departmental work."

Throughout her talk Mrs. Toll stressed democracy and sociability in club organizations.

Plan Luncheon

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, announced that on the two regular meeting days each month, during the coming year, there will be a club luncheon and that the afternoon business meeting will begin at 2 o'clock.

It is her suggestion that at each luncheon the curator of some department will preside with her and that this department will secure the luncheon speakers along lines of the department's study and work.

At the social teas that are to follow the Bible department meetings on other Tuesday afternoons of the month, various curators and members of their departments will serve as hostesses.

Mrs. Montgomery emphasized the fact that all curators are to urge their department members to attend the regular club meetings.

Perfect Record Made In Telephone Service

Service records compiled by officials of the local telephone office show that for five days during June the service was 100 per cent perfect, and that, for the remainder of the month, it never dropped below 97 per cent.

This record is considered remarkable, says Fred Deal, manager, in view of the fact that during the rush hours from 9 to 11 a. m., there are an average of 3900 calls per hour, while in the evening rush there is over half that number, every hour.

The net gain in installations during June showed that 212 new instruments were placed in service, and a new section of switchboard has been placed in service during the last few days, ready to carry a share of the load when necessary. Other new sections will be installed as rapidly as the present building operations permit.

Engineer Advocates Use of Diesel Motor

Editor The Evening News—I have read the different suggestions offered by our citizens, which have been published in your progressive paper. Allow me to place before the public a few facts: I have had considerable experience with steam and gas engines and have yet to find anything superior to the Diesel motor (not the semi-Diesel). The heavy oil Diesel runs on the lowest gravity oil. The Diesel motor has proven itself to the government. Surely they know. I have seen the successful operation of a 6,000 H. P. motor at the works of the Maschinenfabrick-Augsburg-Nurenberg at Nurenberg, Germany.

A steam turine is, to my mind, out of the question, as I have seen a turbine break off about 7,000 blades. It required a large force of mechanics several weeks to repair the engine.

Another drawback about a steam plant is the hardness of our water which would mean the installation of a water softening plant to prevent the excessive incrustation of the boilers, also the danger of mains breaking at the most critical time. And why install only one engine of the type selected? All well laid-out plants have two generators. Both motors are run on the peak load. Would be pleased to confer with any one upon this subject to help Glendale. I remain,

Very truly yours,
F. C. KEENAN,
528 West Alexander.

Canyon Resort Will Be Launched July 4

The opening of Big Tujunga lodge, that was set for July 4, will be carried out according to schedule, says J. R. Thorpe, proprietor, who has been busy for the past week adding the finishing touches to the canyon resort.

Swimming pools for grown people and children, a huge outdoor dance platform, radio and other attractions are ready for the guests, and the tent cottages will accommodate a large portion of those who have already asked for reservations.

The riding ring, where visitors to the lodge may practice horseback riding before essaying trips along the mountain trails, is also ready, and the string of fifteen saddle horses from the Oakmont Saddle stables, owned by Mr. Thorpe, are now being used daily.

Work on the road into the lodge, from Michigan boulevard, has been progressing steadily and access to the canyon has been materially simplified by the improvements that have been carried out, Mr. Thorpe says.

WATER NEEDS OF SOUTHLAND, TOPIC

Boulder Dam Association to Convene at Long Beach For Conference

Water needs of Southern California will be discussed in Long Beach Saturday, July 19. The Boulder Dam association will hold its annual meeting there on that date and city officials throughout Southern California are evincing a keen interest in the convention, because of the growing importance of the water situation in Southern California communities.

The sessions will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning, and an afternoon session will probably be held too. About fifty persons will be in attendance. S. C. Evans, mayor of Riverside, is the executive director of the association.

Two Alternatives

In commenting on the coming conference, Clark Shaw, chief engineer of the Long Beach water department, is quoted as saying:

"For twenty years the use of the Colorado river waters in Southern California has been agitated. It means ample water for all the communities and ultimately all must get together on a definite program of co-operation.

"One of two things is going to result some day. Either the communities of Southern California will agree on a reasonable apportionment of water and a definite program or they will be forced by lawsuits among themselves to spend fortunes. There is ample water for everyone. It is a question of getting together."

Y MEMBERS OFF TO ISLAND CAMP

Special Train Carries Boys To Harbor; Movies to Show Activities

Boys, blankets and grips, gathered en masse this morning at the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, announced that Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank Y. M. C. A. boys were off for Camp Leon V. Shaw, their vacation retreat on Catalina Island.

A special three-car Pacific Electric train transported the boys and their leaders to Wilmington, where they boarded the new steamship "Catalina" for her maiden voyage to Avalon.

Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, and the camping committee have been working busily for weeks to get everything in readiness for the camping outing.

Will Take Movies

Before leaving this morning, Mr. Kelley announced that an innovation in camp life will be the taking of motion pictures of various activities. These pictures will be enjoyed by the boys during the fall and winter months.

"Visitors' Day" is to be July 10, when all parents are invited to visit camp. The camp will close Monday, July 13.

Leaders who accompanied the boys were Dr. John Anderson, Rev. T. E. Stevenson, W. S. Slater, O. C. Hallam, H. C. Rettberg, Dr. R. C. Logan, J. N. Bierma, F. B. Mattice, H. O. Simmons, O. C. Members of the R. W. Meeker family of 1320 East Colorado boulevard are to enjoy the summer months with delightful vacation outings. Miss Mildred Meeker, who left Glendale some weeks ago, is visiting friends in Ortonville, Minn. Warren Meeker has been entertaining a fraternity brother, Ed Smith, and they are now enjoying an outing at Mr. Smith's summer home at Catalina. Later they will leave for a motor trip that will take them to Yosemite valley, Salt Lake, Yellowstone park, Lake Louise, Portland, Seattle and into northern California. Mrs. Meeker and daughter Evelyn are anticipating a sojourn at Coronado Beach.

SOLVES MYSTERY OF MISSING MAN

Woman Gets Trace of Uncle After 75 Years, Came To California

SACRAMENTO, July 3.—A family mystery of seventy-five years' duration was solved by the casual visit of Mrs. E. S. Webster of South Bend, Ind., to Sutter's Fort.

Charles Hathaway, granduncle of Mrs. Webster, left his home in Indiana in 1849, and joined the gold stampede to California. For three generations his fate has been unknown, though relatives spent much time and money in the effort to find out the facts.

Mrs. Webster, who stopped in Sacramento en route home after attending the national convention of Women's Federated clubs in Los Angeles, stepped into the historic gallery of Sutter's Fort and gazed at the photograph of her greatuncle. Beneath it was inscribed: "Charles Hathaway, California Pioneer, and One of the Builders of the West."

Farming Revival to Aid Northwest Trade

ST. PAUL, July 3.—Trade in the northwest still is in the doldrums. Business is still marking time while awaiting agricultural development, but a revival is expected in the next fortnight. There has been plenty of rain, and little damage has been done to crops. The condition of wheat, rye and corn is good, but it will be two weeks before it can be definitely determined whether the 1924 harvest will be sufficiently successful to provide a marked stimulus to business. Retail trade in the Twin Cities continues quiet, and there is some unemployment, although the labor situation is not serious by any means.

American Polo Team Beat British Players

ST. CLOUD, France, July 3.—The American polo team today continued its attack on the Olympic title by defeating the English team, 10 to 2. The match was played on a dangerous, slippery field and was closely contested after the opening chukker when the United States players scored four goals.

Boeseke and Hitchcock were the American stars and together accounted for most of their team's total.

SIX NEW STORES WILL BE OPENED

Piggly-Wiggly System Plans To Increase Branches During This Year

Six new stores, making a total of nine in all to be opened in 1924, are to be introduced to the people of Southern California within the next few months by the Piggly Wiggly company, according to an announcement by President A. C. Jones. Two of the new serve-self groceries were thrown open in June, one at Vine street and Santa Monica boulevard, Los Angeles, and the other in Orange.

The next opening is scheduled for Saturday, July 5, when a Piggly Wiggly store will open its doors in Santa Ana. This will be the thirty-fifth store in the Southern California chain, and by the end of the year there will be a total of forty. The investment represented in the new stores opening during the present year is approximately $160,000 and the store system is rapidly reaching the million dollar figure. In the majority of cases, with the opening of the new establishments, the concern is erecting new, modern buildings, peculiarly adapted to its own "serve-self" style of selling.

Serve-Self System

In the Piggly Wiggly stores the customer enters, is provided with a basket, and follows a direct passageway through the store, helping herself to the goods desired from the stock, all of which is in plain sight. At the end of the passage is a checker, who presents a bill, and a cashier, who collects. The system is practically the same as that used in the modern, up-to-date cafeteria.

The other five stores scheduled for opening this year will be located at Monrovia; Tenth and Norton, and South Park and Vernon streets, Los Angeles; Van Nuys and Lankershim. At the present time, the Piggly Wiggly system employs some 300 persons, and has an annual payroll of close to $1,000,000.

4,000,000 Vehicles Estimated Output Of Auto Factories

DETROIT, July 3.—Alfred Reeves, general manager of the national automobile chamber of commerce, says he expects that the motor car and truck business this year will not be far behind that of 1923. The production should be close to 4,000,000 vehicles, he estimated.

"One of the most healthful signs," said Mr. Reeves, "is that, excepting one or two sections, the used car markets are better and the losses less. With 15,000,000 vehicles in use, replacements this year should require at least 2,000,000 cars and trucks, but this figure may vary, as the number of vehicles scrapped each year has possibilities of wide variation.

"Tapering off in motor car production is a healthy sign. With the output of 1,066,000 vehicles in the first quarter, the real menace would have been greater with an increase in production."

SEEK INCREASES IN GASOLINE TAX

Higher Motor Vehicle Fees, Less Road Work Asked By Association

SACRAMENTO, July 3.—Increase of the gasoline tax and motor vehicle fees, and endorsement of a resolution providing that no mileage be added to the state highway system except such as is specified in recent bond issues, featured a discussion at the session of the Northern Counties' association on highway problems.

Proposals of the association relative to increased gasoline taxation and motor vehicle fees designate that augmented funds thus secured shall be devoted wholly to new road construction by the state. This plan will be submitted to a special legislative committee.

CEREMONY JOINS GLENDALE COUPLE

Miss Zelma Bunting Becomes A. G. Mitchell's Bride At Home Wedding

At a very pretty home wedding ceremony, Miss Zelma Veneta Bunting, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bunting of 1325 North Brand boulevard, and Alexander Gilbert Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell of 1549 Ben Lomond Drive, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, this morning, July 3, 1924, at 7 o'clock. Daily Greeting To News Readers

God's guidance does not make men's need less, for a very large part of God's guidance is ministered to us through men. And whenever a man's thoughts and words teach us to understand God's thoughts and words more clearly, to love them more earnestly, or to obey them more gladly—there human guidance is discharging its noblest function.—Alexander Maclaren.

DANGER OF THREE-PARTY SYSTEM

The party system of government is the best that has ever been devised. The parties keep a check on each other and the one in power must show certain results or be expelled. But, more than two parties are antagonistic to legislative accomplishment. Where no party has a clear majority there are negligible results; the third or minority party can accomplish nothing save blocking legislation and progress.

Nominally we have only two parties here in the United States, but some of the results of a three-party government were apparent in the last Congress when insurgent Republicans broke away from their party and virtually formed a bloc. They voted with the Democrats, criticized and opposed the administration at every turn, brought about changes in House rules, delayed the election of a presiding officer in the Senate, made over the administration program of tax reform, blocked the president in his fight for American participation in a world court, and fought him on the bonus issue and the immigration act. They transferred the Republican majority into a minority, paralyzed party government, and hampered the administration in every way.

In England the result of three-party government has been legislative stagnation for the past six months. The Labor party is in power but it is far weaker than the Tory party and is absolutely helpless without the support of the Liberals. Laborites and Liberals have nothing in common but opposition to the Tories. So the British Parliament is simply marking time. England is waiting to see what Ramsay McDonald is going to do when the fact is, he is powerless to do anything.

In France and Germany they have not only three parties with which to contend, but innumerable groups or blocs. These minorities cannot accomplish anything in the way of legislation. All they can do is to combine to vote down and turn out of office a ministry or a president and that has become the chief function of the French Chamber of Deputies and the German Reichstag.

The Italian Chamber, concerned only with the changing of ministers, due to multi-party paralysis, was restored to health, strength and power by the advent of Fascism.

VACATION LAND

Southern California is truly a vacation land. There are few other sections where such varied sports are within easy access as in Glendale and surroundings. Motoring is the most popular of our out-door sports, it is a recreation which even the laziest of us may enjoy. And our motor can take us in a few minutes either to the mountains or the beach, to the golf links or the picnic grounds, to the swimming pool or the mountain stream.

This is vacation time and many are preparing to spend a few weeks or a few months at the seashore or at some mountain resort. It all depends upon our tastes where we shall go, for both places have an abundance of health-giving sport to offer.

Those who suffer from the heat prefer the beach, for there is always the refreshing breeze from the sea. Nothing is so exhilarating as surf-bathing, and many people find lying in the sand in the sun most restful. Sun baths were famed of old for all kinds of ills, and those who like to rest in the sand may derive more benefit than would appear. Deep sea fishing and surf fishing have their devotees, and motor boating is fairly intoxicating.

There is a variety in nature in the mountains that we do not have at the beach. There are those who enjoy nothing so much as wandering up and down mountain trails enjoying each new vista as it spreads before them. The study of the wild life in the woods and mountains, the fauna and the flowers and the trees is enthralling and serves to take the mind from business worries and commonplace things. And what appetites the out-of-doors develops! Hawthorne describes the odor of frying bacon in the woods so subtly that one can almost smell it.

Wherever we go for our summer rest and recreation we may be thankful that we live so near to nature in her various forms.

'GLOOMY GUS,' THIS WAY OUT!

The greatest depression in Southern California is the depression of the depressed. In other words, the pessimists are very pessimistic and the "Gloomy Gus" breed are mighty gloomy. The rest of us are going about our business, if we have any, and most of us have. At least we aren't forever nosing into the other fellow's and trying to tell him how "rotten" it is.

While certain lines show a falling off, others are better this summer than any summer on record. Bank clearings, always a good test, are running ahead of last year. The railroads are carrying more freight than their average in recent summers. Savings deposits are still growing. There is an enormous life insurance business, in small policies as well as large ones. And don't forget, this is presidential year!

An optimist quietly remarks that the labor released by factories can soon be used to advantage, and will be so used, in the harvest fields. This is one of the things the farmer needs. And by the time laid-off industrial workers have got the crops in, the optimist adds, industry will be speeding up again and calling for more hands.

WHY PUT ATHLETES' LIMIT AT 35?

Those stalwart athletes of ancient Greece were made of less durable brawn than our own modern titans whose prowess in field events, wrestling, boxing, polo, football, baseball and other sports make columns of news print every day. The Greeks barred from their Olympic contests all athletes over 35 years of age.

Today many famous athletes exceed that age. And why not? Physicians and statisticians tell us that the span of human life is slowly being lengthened. If we live longer and keep more fit than formerly, the period of athletic prowess should naturally increase in proportion. There are still enough early breakdowns, however, to keep present-day athletes from becoming too conceited about their own chances or too scornful of early Greek limitations.

A movie-house manager of our acquaintance tells us he has "A nice dark theater, and a pretty good show if you care to look at it."

The leap year is half gone and the bachelors that have survived the onslaught thus far are beginning to take hope.

The advantage of a sermon by radio is that you can fall asleep in the midst of it without being publicly disgraced.

The Good Old Days

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A symbolic event took place the other day when the Queen of Belgium walked up to the ballot box and dropped in her vote.

It was noticed by most newspaper readers with a cursive smile, and possibly mentioned over the coffee cups as a picturesque item, but really it was significant and worth turning over in the mind.

It marks the utter passage of the old order. Kings and Queens and all the Lord's anointed are certainly not what they used to be.

Imagine Abdul the Damned or Louis the Magnificent waiting in line at the polls, or picture the Prussian Kaiser or the Russian Czar standing up to be counted!

Sometimes we grow peevish and inclined to think the old world is getting sour, that it's the twilight of the gods, the rich own the earth and little son Tommy is entering upon a world game with the cards stacked against him.

Where are our liberties? we ask, and it's Oh for the good old merry days so light and gay!

Then a little thing like a Queen voting brings us up with a jerk.

And there comes to mind what we have read:

Of grand seigneurs of Bourbon days deflowering a mother's child, flinging the horror-stricken parent a purse of gold and riding away singing rataplan, rataplan;

Of a noble lord of Charles Stuart's day ordering his bullies to flog the impertinent tradesman for daring to send in his bill;

Of Richard's summary command, "Off with his head!" and then chortle, "So much for Buckingham!"

Of Le Roi Soleil, the magnificent old lecher who lounged through the barbaric splendors of Versailles, played with wantons at Trianon, and said, "The State? I am the State," neither did anybody deny him;

Of the imperious Hapsburgs riding down peasant children in the street, and insulting ladies in the cafe while their escorts stood respectfully at attention;

Of Russian Grand Dukes flogging moujiks for daring to complain of sickness, and Cossacks shooting down the assembled people who had the temerity to present a petition;

Of slave-drivers tying black men to whipping posts and selling their little ones into bondage;

Of all the cruel, dirty, cowardly and unjust antics of privileged scoundrels and crowned perverts;

Of all the unhanged rascals upon thrones that, haloed by superstitition, exalted by tradition and protected by soldiers, have trampled their gluttonous way through honest human wheat, defiling what they could not destroy.

And of how children were taught to honor them, how bishops consecrated them, how decent men accepted them as a matter of course and struggled for their favors;

How Goethe lived upon a noble's bounty like any lackey, Mozart cooled his heels like a milliner's maid in the antechamber of simpering duchesses that his divine genius might get a hearing;

Of how for long centuries, from generation to generation, mankind has been bilked, buncoed and browbeaten by the ancient delusion of hereditary nobility;

And then, when we see Her Royal Highness voting, alongside the milkman's wife and the grocer's clerk,

We are forced to conclude that the world does move, and that in spite of the fact

That the banker lives in a fine house and we live in a walkup flat;

That Mary Pickford makes a thousaand dollars or so a day while our Rachel works harder and only gets fifteen a week;

That Wall street gentlemen control millions, while we have difficulty in holding our jobs;

In fine, that some are still rich and dress in purple and fine linen, and fare sumptuously every day, while others must hustle mightily to pay the rent—

In spite of it all, and for a' that and a' that, it's a better world than it was;

Children have a better chance and shed fewer tears;

Young men and maidens have cleaner dreams and a finer romance;

It's no such disgrace and stigma as it used to be to be a workingman;

That the winds of liberty blow free, from the Statue of Liberty to the Golden Gate;

And that altogether out of the blood and grime and dust and disease of the Past there is pushing up the white flower of Hope.

Anyhow, it's not so bad as it was.

The Queen votes.

Horoscope

Mars in malefic aspect dominates this day, according to astrology. Saturn, Jupiter and Uranus are all adverse.

This is declared a most unlucky day for all business transactions except selling.

The stars appear to frown on constructive enterprises and to encourage a pessimistic view regarding business conditions.

Labor comes under a sinister sway making for unrest and for strikes or lockouts.

Political ideas will be greatly confused at this time, the seers declare, owing to dangerous propaganda.

The planetary government is believed to encourage intrigue and trickery in national campaign activities in certain states.

Again astrologers foretell surprises in the results of the presidential election.

Sensational methods are to be employed in canvassing for votes, if astrologers read the stars aright.

Uranus is in a place that is said to encourage wrong thinking and extreme self-interest in public affairs.

The deaths of elderly financiers and persons of note will be numerous before the end of the autumn, it is prophesied.

President Coolidge should safeguard his health at this time, when he may be subject to a malady affecting the digestive apparatus.

A government crisis is imminent again in England, when the king will meet a new embarrassment, it is prognosticated.

Persons whose birth date it is may have some trouble in business affairs in the coming year, but travel and change that bring success are indicated.

Children born on this day may have many ups and downs in life. These subjects of Cancer usually love adventure and like to avoid monotony.

Today's Poem

"WHY, LOVELY CHARMER"

Why, lovely charmer, tell me why,
So very kind, and yet so shy?
Why does that cold forbidding air
Give damps of sorrow and despair?
Or why that smile my soul subdue,
And kindle up my flames anew?

In vain you strive with all your art,
By turns to fire and freeze my heart;
When I behold a face so fair,
So sweet a look, so soft an air,
My ravished soul is charmed all o'er,
I cannot love thee less or more.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

If I had my way and if others would take my advice you would not see so many lots grown to weeds all over the city. But no one listens to the man who has nothing but advice to offer. I have good ideas to spare but I never seem to get the opportunity to put them into practice.

Now, if I were a real estate subdivider and there were vacant lots in the tract I was opening I would arrange with the owners of them to have them cleared and planted to flowers, or vegetables. It seems to me it would pay to have some one come in and plow up all the unused land, cultivate and plant it and care for the crops and then charge this labor to advertising. It would be a splendid advertisement for any tract to have it covered with flowers—even potatoes would be better than weeds. It would enhance the beauty of the subdivision, make it more attractive to buyers and of more value, and people who saw it would advertise it.

But, then, I am not likely to have a subdivision to play with, so this is a good idea gone to waste. But, if I had a vacant lot, I would do the same thing. I would make it more attractive and more valuable by showing people that something besides weeds could grow upon it. And if I couldn't afford the time to cultivate the lot or I couldn't pay some one to do it for me and if I could find no one who wanted to make use of it as a garden, I would, at least, clear the weeds from it, remove the fire hazard and make it as attractive as possible under the circumstances.

Another good idea which was born in my brain but will likely never be used is the desirability of planting more trees around our homes, in fact, everywhere throughout the city, except in the middle of the paved streets. I do not advocate digging up the paving to plant trees. There is enough mutilation of the pavement for other purposes. If I owned a home I should not be satisfied until I had plenty of shade around it. No home could be attractive to me without some trees. I should plant trees in my back yard, in my front yard and in the parking. I should call a meeting, if I were a home owner, of the people on my street and arrange for a landscape gardener to map out a plan of tree planting for the street that would be suitable and uniform—unless, of course, we already had plenty of trees, and there are few streets in Glendale that are as attractive as they should be in this respect.

Glendale has the name of being clean and beautiful, but if I had my way the city would be made still more attractive by the use of more shade trees, more shrubbery, more flowers and fewer weeds.

CLUBWOMEN URGE JAP PEACE MOVE

Proposed Mobilization Day Rouses Protest During Executive Meet

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, was in attendance Monday and Tuesday at the executive session at Hotel Miramar, Santa Monica.

The outstanding action of the gathering was a pledge to support President Coolidge in his expressed sentiment of good will for Japan and to support also at the next session of Congress such legislation as will promote peace and friendliness between the United States and Japan.

Prominent women from all over the state were present and with two exceptions every member of the large body was present to cast her affirmative vote for the resolution expressing this pledge.

Ban Mobilization

The women passed two other resolutions, One was a protest to President Coolidge and to Secretary of War Weeks against the proposed mobilization day, set for September 12, 1924.

A third resolution was in favor of allowing the Pueblo Indians to practice their own religious ceremonies without interference from the government.

INTEREST IN NEW BUICK IS KEEN

Orders for Quick Delivery Flowing In, Declares Glendale Dealer

Never has there been more interest shown in a new model of any popular automobile than has been exhibited this week by the citizens of Glendale, declares W. A. Tanner, one of the members of the firm of Tanner & Hall, Buick distributors at 622 South Brand boulevard, where the 1925 model Buick cars have been on display for two days.

The response has been surprising," Mr. Tanner said. "We told the people there would be a new model Buick here on Thursday, and hundreds have come in to look over the display since that day. Every person who has seen the 1925 model Buick declares it is one of the most classy, most complete and most up-to-date six-cylinder car at a moderate price that has ever been manufactured.

Orders Coming In

"There will be a heavy demand for the new Buick cars this year, I am certain. The hardest part will be getting them from the factories fast enough. Everywhere the new models are shown, motorists are delighted with them, and orders for immediate delivery are being placed."

One of the busiest men around the show rooms is Ray Galvin, sales manager, who points out the many new appliances and advantages on the 1925 models. He explains the low-pressure tires, or semi-balloon type, as many call them; the numerous accessories that are found on the car; the enclosed feature that is unique and practical; the latest mechanical devices which make driving easier and safer, and the sturdy, standard equipment, chassis and motor.

"All new Buick models are equipped with four-wheel brakes," he said. "These brakes are external operating, operating on drums of unusual size and area on all four wheels. The equalizer insures proper distribution of pressure to front and rear brakes. The wheels are of artillery type with hub flanges."

Pure tantalum, 16.6 times as heavy as an equal volume of water, or half again as heavy as lead, is one of the heaviest metals introduced into commerce.

Highway Patrol Service Aid To Every Motorist

All Sorts of Emergencies Must Be Met Along Southland Roads

Motoring organizations the country over are watching with keen interest the working out of the highway patrol service recently inaugurated by the Automobile Club of Southern California. This new department carries the club service to remote points on the main highways through a fleet of light trucks especially equipped and driven by carefully picked men.

Although this new service primarily is designed for the tens of thousands of members of the auto club, the work is of such a character that automatically the entire motoring public will benefit. The service is being lauded particularly by visiting motorists in the southland, who have frequent need of information and assistance regarding direction, garages, hotels, and other items important to travelers.

Drivers of these patrol trucks have need to be well qualified, because they must serve in all sorts of emergencies. They are schooled in handling traffic to relieve temporary congestion; they carry medical first aid cabinets, fire extinguishers, and equipment for limited mechanical assistance. They remove dangerous substances from the surfaces of the roads; report reckless driving, detours, needed repairs, and similar matters of importance to motorists, as well as being provided with maps and all sorts of information, including reports of stolen cars, for the guidance of authorities in outlying districts.

Falling More Fatal Than Car Accidents

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 3.—In directing attention to the annual meeting of the National City Building Officials' conference in Louisville, D. M. Brucker, building inspector of Louisville, makes the startling statement that nearly 15,000 persons are killed in the United States each year by falls of various sorts, and that most of these falls result from slipping on floors and stumbling on stairs of buildings. One fifth of the total number of accidental deaths from all causes is due to falls. Plain, ordinary falls, Mr. Brucker points out, kill 1000 to 3000 more people every year than automobile accidents.

UNIFORMITY NEEDED IN SIGNALS

Statutes Vary In Many States; Prove Puzzling To Visiting Drivers

The statutes of the various states apply to every phase of motor vehicle operation. Special regulations, rules of the road, light regulations and signals, vary greatly. As an illustration of this diversity, we may take the regulations regarding hand-signals as they exist in the various states on the route from New York to the West.

New York—Arm extended horizontally to indicate stop or turn to the right or left.

New Jersey—Hand raised for slowing or stopping and for turning extend the hand to indicate the direction in which the turn is to be made.

Pennsylvania—None required by statute.

Ohio—"Cause signals to be made of the intention in a way visible outside of the vehicle."

Signals Differ

Indiana—Extend arm and move it up and down to indicate stop. Extend arm with forearm raised at right angle to indicate right turn and extend arm in a horizontal position to indicate left turn.

Illinois—Arm extended for turrs or stops.

Missouri—Extend arm horizontally to indicate stop. Extend arm upward for right turn—extend arm downward for left turn.

Impossible Situation

It is most important that the motor vehicle driver should know these signals. Not only is it necessary for his own safety and the guidance of others in driving, but in the event of an accident the signal given, if one is required, might be an important question in determining his liability.

There is even greater variance in the very important regulations applying to speed and lights.

Largest leaves in the world are of the Inaj palm, growing on the banks of the Amazon and reaching a height of 50 feet and breadth of 12 feet.

CUT IN TAX HELPS CAR OWNERS

Provisions of Revenue Bill Effect Large Savings For Motorists

Although the new revenue bill passed by Congress did not bring all of the reductions hoped for in motor vehicle taxes, a considerable saving will result to southland motorists. The new federal tax bill brings a reduction of one-half in the tax levied upon tires, tubes and accessories. Where this tax was formerly five per cent, it is now two and one-half per cent. The five per cent tax on new cars and automobile parts remains unchanged.

While the reduction apparently is small, the aggregate will amount to a considerable sum for Southern California motorists.

State's Tire Bill

California's tire bill amounts to approximately $75,000,000 annually; and it pays additional millions for accessories, so that the tax reduction to all motorists in the state will total $2,000,000. This is approximately one-fifth of the sum raised by the state gasoline tax.

Southern California, with over 40 per cent of the motor vehicles in the state, will benefit to the extent of over $800,000. Various national organizations urged a reduction in federal taxes affecting the motorist, and aiding these was the Automobile Club of Southern California, which for twenty-four years has been active in every constructive movement for the interest of the motoring public.

LAW'S VIOLATION BRINGS PENALTY

Destruction of Yucca Plant Is Costing Motorists Heavy Sentences

Ignorance of the law protecting yucca plants is costing many motorists heavy fines and threatening imprisonments, according to announcement by the Automobile Club of Southern California. In this connection the auto club is warning all strangers in the state not to yield to the lure of the beautiful white blooms, as two years ago the county passed an ordinance making it unlawful for any person to mutilate or destroy any yucca plant, or to pick or cut any blooms or blossoms therefrom, whether such plants are growing on public or private land.

This ordinance was passed to prevent the beautiful desert plants from extermination. This is the blooming season and the temptation to motorists is great. Plucking the big blossoms kills the plant so that drastic measures are necessary to save the remaining specimens that form a highly decorative feature of desert travel.

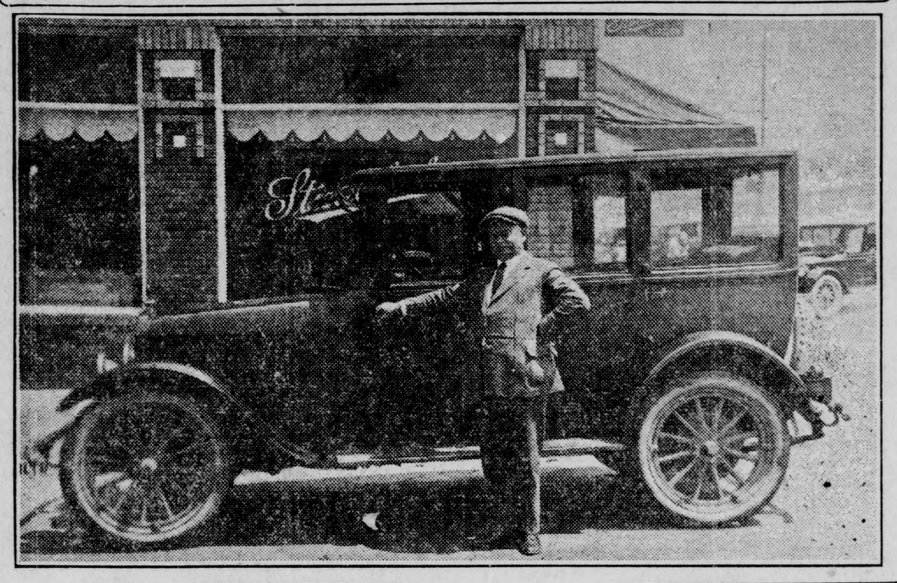
Penalty Imposed

A fine up to $50 and imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed thirty days, or both fine and imprisonment may be imposed for violation of the law.

The forestry department reports to the automobile club that many persons are picking the yucca plants in ignorance of the law, which does not excuse them. Hence the club urges that resident motorists familiar with the campaign to save the yucca, inform visiting motorists that the blossoms must not be disturbed.

Car Goes 104,000 Miles

WM. MORGAN, veteran taxicab driver, pins his faith on the Studebaker Light Six Sedan that has shown its worth in almost three years of hard daily service in all sorts of trying conditions.



Economy and Ease of Operation Are Features That Appeal to Car Owner After Long Experience on Southland Roads

The supreme test for an automobile is furnished by the day in, day out wear and tear that it receives in the taxicab service, according to William Morgan, one of the men associated in the Glendale Taxi Co., 111 South Maryland street, who has been engaged in this line of work for almost the past ten years.

Mr. Morgan started out with a car that failed to meet his expectations and that spent a good portion of its time in the repair shops, but two years ago last October, almost three years ago now, he bought a Studebaker Light Six sedan from the local distributors, Packer Auto Co., 245 South Brand boulevard, and his mechanical troubles since then, he says, have been practically non-existent.

In the two years and eight months that he has been running the Light Six, Mr. Morgan has covered 104,000 miles with the car, and he declares that he has yet to find any reasonable ground for complaint regarding its performance. In fact, he tends to swing to the other side and to affirm that the Studebaker Light Six is the best and most economical car that he has ever driven.

Overhauled Once

The car went into the shops for overhaul for the first time after it had piled up a mileage of 90,000, and he insisted that the job be a thorough one in every respect. Since then he has run it another 14,000 miles and declares it is still fit for many more thousands before any mechanic gets a chance to work it over.

Mr. Morgan, in his taxicab business, has covered the greater part of the State of California. His longest run was one of 900 miles to the border of the Sequoia National Park, and as soon as he had returned to Glendale he turned right round and made the same trip over again, with the car running like clockwork all the way. Other stiff grades that he has successfully negotiated are the ascents of Mount Wilson and up to Camp Baldy, where much of the work is done in second and low gears, and here again the Studebaker Light Six proved its merit.

It is only on his long runs that Mr. Morgan keeps close check on his gasoline consumption, but he declares that he gets 20 miles to the gallon as a rule and that the oil consumption also proves the economy of the Light Six.

20,000 Miles On Tires

One set of tires, he finds, is good for 20,000 miles, on an average, and the ignition system never gives him the slightest trouble. The original paint is still on the car, which he keeps looking clean and shiny, and the upholstery that was there when he bought the car is also maintaining its pristine freshness in a manner that speaks highly for the class of material used in it.

Mr. Morgan, in the time he has been in the taxicab business here, has built up a reputation as a careful driver, and his car is in steady demand for family parties, and especially for taking women and children on business and pleasure trips.

"For the man of moderate means," says Mr. Morgan, "I am convinced that the Studebaker Light Six is the best car to be had at any price. It is economical in operation, it is remarkably reliable in its mechanical operation, and it is a glutton for work under any and every condition."

Cotton Waste Often Causes Gas Trouble

If cotton waste is used to clean the engine, often the lint from it sticks to the parts, and when the hood is down is sucked into the carburetor. This causes the fuel to flow irregularly, and sometimes stops the flow altogether. Cotton cloth, therefore, is better for this purpose.

NEW MODELS OF AUTOS APPEAR

Straight Eight Types to Be Featured In Designs of Coming Season

By J. C. ROYLE

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, July 3.—A number of new models made their first public appearance this week. Other manufacturers will follow this lead at intervals throughout the month, in an effort to stimulate sales. The general trend of the new designs, however, is not secret.

At least six or more manufacturers are prepared to put out straight eight-cylinder models, and there is evidence that these will be equipped in a good many cases with balloon tires and improved brakes of various mechanical construction, as standard equipment.

Sales Increase

The warmer weather recently has been an undoubted stimulus to sales which showed a marked increase last month. These sales aggregated between $250,750,000 and $251,000,000 for the principal makes, a drop of less than 5 per cent compared with June, 1923. Production continued to decline, showing a fall of over 15 per cent, compared with the previous month, and about 20 per cent down from the level of the corresponding month of last year. The general price trend was upward. The normal ratio between cars in stock and cars moving to consumers has not yet been attained, but is rapidly approaching a safer level.

Commercial Demand

The manufacturers of parts have felt the recession in production perhaps more severely than any one individual automobile company, since the majority of them sell to more than one manufacturer. Truck manufacturers and sales have not suffered to the same extent as pleasure cars, and the demand for commercial vehicles continues excellent.

Used cars on hand are about 11 per cent more numerous than in May.

BUYERS TURN TO NEW MOON TYPE

Economy In Construction Is Passed to Customers, Agent Declares

The demand for the new models of the Moon car is strongly emphasized by the showing made during June by southern California dealers, according to W. G. Penn, of the Penn Motor company, 510 East Broadway, local dealer. Figures compiled from official sources show that the Moon stood high in the list of June registrations on new cars, and this result is attributed to the growing realization of the motoring public of the merit that exists in every detail of the Moon.

"Every unit that goes into the construction of the Moon car," says Mr. Penn, "is the highest standard to be found in the country. These units are recognized leaders in their lines, and those that are purchased by the Moon manufacturers are bought only after the most exhaustive tests by Moon engineers, working in collaboration with the engineers of the firms that make them. By this means Moon not only secures the best the market affords, but it also is enabled to save the immense cost of maintaining additional plants to manufacture these units, and this saving is passed on to our customers without any sacrifice in the quality of the Moon."

FREE WHEELS TO FIVE PURCHASERS

Lee Tire & Rubber Company Policy Revealed by Local Dealer

In line with the present activities of competitive manufacturers to hasten the general use of low pressure tires, the Lee Tire & Rubber company announces certain important revisions in their selling plan of balloon tires.

The stumblingblock of motorists otherwise impressed with the balloon tire," says H. M. Butts, manager of the Monarch Auto Supply company, 204 South Brand boulevard, local agent of the Lee Tire & Rubber company, "is the extra outlay needed for small diameter wheels, without which balloon tire equipment is impossible.

"The Lee company is now prepared to offer purchasers of Lee balloon tires, wooden wheels free of charge. Under this arrangement the tires will be sold in sets of five, which will include four wheels and five rims gratis."

CONSERVE WATER PLEA OF DEALER

Franklin Agent Points Out Air Cooled Machine's Advantages

The shortage of water that is being experienced in southern California as a result of the long dry season has given E. S. Beggs, of the Motor Sales company, 406 East Colorado street, a chance to emphasize one of the features of the Franklin car, for which he holds the agency in this territory.

Mr. Beggs urges the motorists of Glendale and surrounding territory to drive a Franklin, and so conserve the water, claiming that there are millions of gallons of water traveling around the country that could well be put to other uses if automobile owners would adopt the air-cooled Franklin.

"And this is just one of the many features of the Franklin that make for economy," continued Mr. Beggs. "The light weight, perfectly balanced, permits the tires to give longer service than is possible on larger, heavier cars, and the maintenance cost is still further reduced by the fact that the Franklin contains many less parts than other cars, thus saving the incessant wear and tear that a heavy car is bound to cause."

SMITH EXPLAINS BUYING METHOD

Gradual Payments Enable Chevrolet Owners to Benefit From Car

"It's easy to pay for a Chevlet."

That is the slogan that C. L. Smith, local dealer at Orange and Colorado streets, is impressing on his salesmen and his clients, and he backs up his claims by figures that show how easy it is to spread the cost of a car over an extended period and still have all the advantages that come from the use of the machine.

"Very few families pay cash down for a home," he claims. "They pay a part and then arrange to pay the balance at regular intervals. The same principle applies to the purchase of a Chevrolet, for this car is just another home, but on wheels. It takes the whole family out, evenings and holidays, transports the workers to their business, and earns its way while they use it and ride it. So that it is easy for the members of a family to meet the cost of buying a Chevrolet by a little co-operation and division of the expense.

"And it's the best paying investment that a family can make, because it provides transportation, saves time and places all outdoors at the command of those who own it."

Follow These Don'ts And Avoid Gas Danger

Never run automobile engines in closed garages. Never crawl under the car with engine running, even though the garage is ventilated. Never sit in a closed car with the engine running unless all windows are open. These simple rules will protect against poisonous gas and carbon monoxide, always present in the exhaust.

TELLS OAKLAND'S WORK AS PIONEER

Novel Features of Present Model Win Favor In Motoring World

It is almost a year since the present model of the Oakland was announced and many of the predictions of a year ago have become realities, according to John Neuschafer, Glendale Oakland dealer, 420 East Colorado street.

"There were many revolutionary features about the Oakland of 1924," says Mr. Neuschafer, "and the factory at that time prophesied that those features would become standard with the most important makes of cars within a year and their predictions have come true.

"The Oakland was the first low priced car to put on four-wheel brakes and today all important makes are either equipped with four-wheel brakes or are seriously considering including them with the models to be announced shortly.

"Duco finish, the only indestrucible automobile body finish on the market, was first used on the Oakland.

"The permanent top was another Oakland feature for 1924 and the number of cars equipped with permanent tops have steadily increased in all price classes."

DETROIT POLICE CARS USE RADIO

Three Lincoln Speedsters Aid In Breaking Up Bandit Gang

Radio and the automobile have been combined by the Detroit police department into an effective means of chasing and capturing bandits.

Three Lincoln touring cars, specially equipped for the work, patrol Detroit's streets, twenty-four hours a day, ready to respond to the radio alarm as it is broadcasted from police headquarters.

In selecting a car for the arduous duties which the flyers are called upon to perform, officials of the police department decided upon the Lincoln as affording the best performance and highest speed.

The radio aerial is placed in the top of the car between the inner and outer linings, with the lead wire coming down at the rear above the back seat. The radio set is fitted into a special compartment in the back of the front seat at the top, and is set in constant tune with the police broadcasting station. A loud speaker is used, so that all officers in the car may hear reports from headquarters, thus affording greater assurance of messages being correctly received.

CONTRACT KEEPS GAS PRICES LOW

K.B.K. Service Station Gives Customers Benefit of Heavy Purchases

The K. B. K. service station, 1023 East Broadway, owned and operated by Harry Banks and Clarence Kreager, in explaining why they were able to retail a good grade of gasoline at 17 cents a gallon, stated that they were fully protected by a large contract made with a famous oil company whereby they could purchase gasoline in large quantities and sell it at the above reduced price. Mr. Banks said that the policy of the service station was to pass all savings of this kind to their patrons and in the period that they have been selling gasoline for this price it has been found to be a very effective advertising proposition in drawing new customers.

Fisk tires, balloon and high pressure, and tubes are handled here along with auto accessories of all kinds. Car washing and greasing is a specialty of the K. B. K.

White's Deposition Not Taken In Big Suit

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Efforts to determine the reason for bringing the names of numerous stage and film celebrities into the $100,000 breach of contract suit of Ann Luther, screen beauty, against Jack F. White, Los Angeles mining millionaire, were postponed yesterday in Judge Hartley Shaw's court until July 10. White had been summoned to show cause why he should not answer certain questions propounded to him in the course of the taking of his deposition, but he was said to be out of the city.

WELCOME FOR YACHT

SANTA BARBARA, July 3.—C. K. G. Billings' million dollar yacht, Venadia, will arrive here July 17 from Charleston, S. C. The local yacht club plans a program of welcome for this palatial boat.

SAFE FROM FLOODS

BLYTHE, July 3.—It's an ill wind that blows no one good. The Palo Verde valley farmers, because of the drouth, have nothing to fear this year from the Colorado river overflowing its banks. Already the high water mark has been passed. The levees held the 75,000 second feet of water as it rushed down to the Gulf of California.

WILL DISINCORPORATE

SANTA ANA, July 3.—On July 22 the voters of Stanton are scheduled to disincorporate that city which was organized some years ago to prevent Anaheim from establishing a municipal sewer farm in the vicinity. The city hall and four lots have been sold to James F. Robinson for $1000, the building alone costing $4500. It will be leased for a store.

CELEBRATE TOO SOON

FULLERTON, July 3.—W. N. Shipley and Walter McClune, two local youths, will not celebrate the Fourth of July as they intended. Shipley was fined $15 by Judge Hart and McClune remanded to the juvenile court for firing rockets in the city streets Sunday night, one of which crashed through the sign on "Baldy's Cafe."

CUSTOMS DUTIES GROW

CALEXICO, July 3.—Customs collections at this port broke all records for the fiscal year 1923-24 with a total of $315,639.47 collected in fees as compared with $21,915.05 at the close of the year 1921-22, showing an increase of 1400 per cent in two years. Dutiable products this year passing through the port totalled $1,447,349.

ARTISTS ON TOUR

ANAHEIM, July 3.—This city is being visited by Herbert Winters and Harry Cunning, two clever Santa Clara youths, who are touring the world by their own device, that of drawing cartoons, advertisements and talking before luncheon clubs. They will leave Southern California soon for New Orleans where they will embark on a Dollar line steamer for South America.

FACES DEPORTATION

NILAND, July 3.—Emil Spranz, employed by a telegraph company installing a new line through the Imperial valley, was taken in tow by immigration officers and placed in the El Centro jail and an investigation lodged into his activities. He came to this country from Germany via Cuba and enlisted in the United States army. He deserted at San Francisco while en route to a Hawaiian island army post. After tiring of Mexico he made his way back through Nogales and through letters addressed to himself at Tucson, Ariz., he was apprehended. Deportation probably awaits him.

HIRE SEWER EXPERT

CORONA, July 3.—C. H. Currie of Webster City, Iowa, has been employed by the city fathers here to solve a problem confronting the residents—that of the odor which emanates from the Exchange By-Products plant. He will also map out plans for enlarging the city's sewer farm.

PEAK OF APRICOT CANNING REACHED

McKeon Cannery Employing 150 Persons to Aid In Handling Crop

BURBANK, July 3.—The McKeon cannery is now nearing the peak of the apricot run and, with the market improving, approximately 150 persons have been put on the payroll, the management states.

The company is pleased with the response which it has had from the Burbank people, who have shown their good faith in one of their home plants, and they express their thanks with sincere feeling. While the people have subscribed only a part of the $25,000 for which the company asked, there is now an amount available, with the very considerable sum which the company has put up, according to its promise, to cause the cannery to feel warranted in making a start, believing that the remainder of the $25,000 will be forthcoming when the public sees that the plant is producing, and really means business.

ORDER PAVING OF GLASSELL ROAD

Work to Start Immediately On Improvements for Eagle Rock, Report

EAGLE ROCK, July 3.—Glassell road is to be paved and sidewalks put in. The work will be completed within 200 days, according to the city engineer's office, Los Angeles. Avenue 36 is also to be paved and sidewalks put in. The district scheduled for improvement takes in what was formerly Glassell road, crossing Fletcher drive, Cressmore place, Verdugo road, and including all the other sections that have grown steadily worse despite the frequent attempts of the street department to temporarily improve conditions.

For years local residents coming in from Los Angeles through the south end of the Eagle Rock district, have been unable to maintain an even disposition owing to the condition of Glassell road, or Eagle Rock boulevard, as it is now called. Turning off Verdugo road onto Glassell avenue, old residents always set their faces for bumps and jolts that came in remarkable succession. Visitors were surprised and unfavorably impressed, to say the least, with the district when they chanced to arrive by the Glassell route. Residents rejoice to think that this condition will soon cease to exist.

Resents Remarks

Branding it as selfishness that has led several local residents to urge the proposed high school for the Eagle Rock valley be placed within the old corporate limits of Eagle Rock, Mrs. J. C. Reiter, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who has worked in conjunction with the school committee, declares there are numerous reasons why the committee is asking that the school be located in the vicinity of York boulevard and Glassell.

The many friends of Patrolman Elmer M. Gee, who has lived in Eagle Rock for years and is now with the Lincoln Heights police division, were pleased to learn of his bravery in the recent capturing of two escaped convicts from a state road camp near Bakersfield. The convicts escaped early in the day, and while Officer Gee was walking his beat on North Main street he spied an automobile bearing a state license that corresponded to one broadcast from Bakersfield, as the one on the car in which the convicts fled. The arrests followed.

Alleged Vagrant Has Bucketful of Junk

SANTA BARBARA, July 3.—"See, I salt my savings," said W. F. Detrick, aged 61, an itinerant who arrived here a little early for the Fourth of July celebration. He is held as a vagrant.

"You salt your savings, all right," said the desk sergeant at the police station who searched the man as he disgorged $5.47 in pennies and nickels from a trousers pocket which was filled with the tramp's supply of salt.

Detrick also possessed a choice assortment of milk caps, string, tinfoil, marbles, old papers, peanut shells, fishhooks, soap, ribbons, badges and patent fruit jar lids.

All told he was carrying a bucketful of junk in his clothes.

FOREIGN BUYERS FAVOR CHRYSLER

Output Reaches 10,000 for Six Months of First Announcement

The demand that has manifested itself for the Chrysler Six since it was first announced has not been confined to American motorists, but is growing steadily in foreign countries, according to Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chrysler distributor.

The Chrysler output reached the 10,000 figure before the middle of June, and of this number, a large part has gone to fill the foreign demand, where the small bore type of motor that furnishes power to the Chrysler has been known and used for years, and where a car of the Chrysler class, Mr. Clark says, makes an instant and decided impression.

"The record achieved by the Chrysler organization, in putting out 10,000 cars in less than the first six months after the first announcement, is one that stands without a parallel in the automotive industry," says Mr. Clark, "and the achievement is even greater than it sounds when it is considered that unusual precautions have been taken to insure the quality of every car that leaves the factory.

"Chrysler production has been averaging 150 cars daily," he adds, "but proposed changes in the plant will enable a much greater number to be turned out in the near future."

Charley Hall Hurls Solons To Victory as Vernon Pitchers Pounded

By BEN McGUIRE
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Sacramento took the third game of the series from the Tigers yesterday, after pounding the ball all over the park, and chasing two of Bill Essick's best bets, Leon Cadore and Bobby Vines. The final score was 13 to 5.

Ed Bryan, a rookie from Texarkana, Texas, made his debut yesterday, when Cadore and Vines failed, and allowed the Solons four hits and one run in six innings, and obtained a single and double and drove in two runs in as many times at bat. Charley Hall pitched masterly ball, the Tigers getting ten hits, but which were well scattered.

Bobby Rohwer, Bengal third baseman, was the hitting demon of the day, grabbing himself off a double, triple and home run in three times at the plate.

Jimmy Welsh beat the Angels 4 to 3 yesterday at Seattle, although the entire Seattle crew will share Jimmy's victory. With the count three to one against them in the sixth, Welsh drove in two scores, and a few minutes later crossed the pan with the winning score. Golvin got a homer and Charley Root poked out a triple.

It took ten innings for the Bees to beat the Oaks 5 to 4 at Oakland yesterday. McCabe relieved O'Neil in the ninth and hurled two balls before he was yanked. O'Doul followed him and his first throw hit Lafayette and forced in a run. Singleton finished the game. Kunz and Foster worked for the Oaks.

The Seals dropped the opening game of the series at Portland yesterday, 10 to 2. Williams, Henion and Schorr pitched for the Seals, while Rachac hurled for the Ducks. Portland gathered eleven hits off the three Seal hurlers.

WASHINGTON HAS HOPES OF TITLE

Pin Faith to Old Baseball Axiom About Club In Lead on Fourth

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, July 3.—There is a baseball axiom that the club which is in first place on July 4 is the probable winner of the championship. And that axiom just now is giving great aid and comfort to the Washington fans, for, with the Fourth practically upon them, they see their favorites standing well out in front in the race, and are confident they will be there on Friday.

The Senators started on April 19 in fourth place. On April 26 and May 3 they were fifth. On May 10 and 17 they were sixth. Then they began to brace, and by May 31 they had fought up to fifth again. They were in fourth June 7 and 14. On June 21, they were in third, and the leaders began to falter. On June 24 the Senators stepped right up to the front of the parade, and on the week ending June 28 they were in sole and undisputed command of the leadership.

Washington gained more than 100 points in June. That is the most substantial recommendation that can be made of them.

They have not attained the championship speed of teams that have won with the customary .667. That is the standard of a No. 1 supremacy. The question is arising, however, whether there is any team in the American league this year that is going to acquire such a standing.

PICK HUSKY MEN FOR BOAT CREWS

Many of Oarsmen Present at Poughkeepsie Stand Over Six Feet

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, July 3.—America certainly is building them bigger and better when it comes to rowing. Of the varsity crews at Poughkeepsie—Washington, Syracuse, Cornell and Pennsylvania—there were only three men out of thirty-two who were under six feet. Seven of them were over six feet three inches.

Washington had no man in her boat under six feet in height and there were two who measured six feet four inches and one who measured six feet three inches. Syracuse had two men over six feet three; Cornell had one who measured six feet four and Pennsylvania had two over six feet three.

Age Takes Toll

Age took its toll, both on links and courts in England last week. Norman Brookes, after defeating Francis Hunter in a glorious revival of all his old skill, went down before E. Washer simply because he had nothing left to give in the way of physical strength. J. W. Taylor, after a marvelous round of 70 at Hoylake, fell by the wayside in the exacting, long grind. But both gave wonderful exhibitions of skill and brightened the galleries with flashes of their old time greatness.

There are two improbable contests which the world would like to see. One is the race between Busty Callow's Washington crew, and Ed Leader's Yale eight. The other is a match between Miss Joyce Wethered, British woman golf champion, and Miss Glenne Collett.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE TO OPEN JULY 8

Six Teams Are Entered In Schedule of Games at School Grounds

The Twilight baseball league season is to open next Tuesday, July 8, on the grounds of the Harvard street High school, according to an announcement by R. Ernest Tucker, executive secretary of Community Service, who states that six teams have already signified their intention of participating in the season's games.

These teams represent the Central Labor Council, Postoffice, Telephone Company, Typographical Union, Public Service and Jesse E. Smith Co.

Rules for Schedule

The games will be called at 5:45 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week, and will close at 7 o'clock, prompt. The final score of each game will be that at the end of the last full inning before the closing hour. Each team is expected to furnish its own bats and balls, and the battery must be members of the organization for which they are playing.

Teams in the league can use the Harvard street High school grounds for practice any evening when no regular game is scheduled, and Eugene Wolff, athletic coach, will be in charge of the grounds from 5:30 to 7:30 each night.

TUNNEY TO FIGHT CARPENTIER SOON

July 22 Is Set as Date for Bout at Polo Grounds; Men Training

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The match between Georges Carpentier and Gene Tunney which—as exclusively stated by the writer—will be held this month, has now been pinned down to a definite date. July 22 is the time set, and the place, the Polo Grounds.

Carp is training at Jack Curley's place on Long Island and Tunney is taking a little rest-up in Poland Springs, Me., so, unless the boxing authorities object—this is unlikely—the fight is on.

The Governor of Indiana, if he chances to see the Greb-Stribling fight at Michigan City on July 4, will probably give an interesting opinion upon the bout. With huge gloves upon their fists and Greb clawing all over the ring, it is a cinch he would be the last one to call the mix-up a "prize fight."

AMERICANS PLACE IN WATER EVENTS

One Girl Comes Within 1-5 Of Second of World's Record In Dash

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

PARIS, July 3.—In the elimination swimming tryouts Wednesday, Madeline Wehselen of the American team made the women's 100 meter relay squad in one minute, 12 4-5 seconds, within one-fifth of a second of the world's record.

The eliminations took place at the Tourelles swimming tank and Hawaiian team members played their ukeleles while the others passed through the water.

Miss Chambers of San Diego, Cal., Sybil Bauer and Helen Riggin made the women's 100-meter back stroke team.

Others Qualify

Paul Wyatt of Uniontown, Pa., qualified with Warren Kealoha of Honolulu and Henry Lunning of Honolulu for the men's back stroke. Wiesmuller, Howe, Kruegre and Bryer qualified for the men's 200-meter relay squad. Breyer's time was two minutes 22 4-5 seconds.

Keen interest still exists over the impromptu race staged Tuesday by Paavo Nurmi, Finnish runner, and Joie Ray of the United States, during a 1500-meter tryout.

The first look convinces one that the Finn is a great runner. I had been told that he was not a runner in the sense that conforms with any accepted standard. But the belief was general that he could sprint if he so wished. I was surprised by his high-action stride.

Has Odd Style

Nurmi runs like a quarter miler rather than a distance runner. He has a tremendous bound to his stride and carries his arms high, working with a strong pull. He made Ray look childish, refusing to accept seriously the American's challenge at the race stadium.

After the performance, Coach Lawson Robertson of the American team was quoted as saying: "That is the reason Ray is not running in the 1500 meters. He is an actor, not a runner."

Nurmi is entered in six running events, ranging in distance from 800 to 10,000 meters races.

WIMBLEDON, July 3.—The Stars and Stripes were carried into the finals of the women's doubles today in the English tennis championship playoff by Miss Helen Wills and Mrs. George Wightman, who defeated Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, 8-6, 6-4.

Walter P. Chrysler says Maxwell Now Sets a New Pace-

MAXWELL

The good Maxwell is displaying the possibilities of the four-cylinder car, in the very things people want in motor cars, in a way they have never been demonstrated before.

With the active participation of the Chrysler Six engineering staff, the process of betterment begun three years ago was tremendously accelerated.

The difference in the way the Maxwell rides and drives and steers will impress you instantly.

You will be expecting the vibration you've always felt behind a four-cylinder engine.

But you will be delightfully disappointed—and surprised. For we have taken that vibration away from Maxwell. It's gone.

You can safely count on 22 miles to the gallon or better, and 18,000 miles per set of tires. Those figures are not ours, but the average of Maxwell owner reports.

Main bearings rarely if ever replaced; a longer-lived, smoother-running car because vibration is practically eliminated.

That's the way we are building the good Maxwell today—with a far greater proportion of costly alloy steels than is usual at its price.

The most I ask is that you compare Maxwell riding and driving and performance and then decide for yourself whether any other four you know of can match up to a Maxwell.

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

TOMORROW WILL BE THE FOURTH!

It seems to me that when I was a child the Fourth of July used to be a bigger holiday to look forward to than Christmas. We used to begin to save our nickels long in advance to invest in firecrackers and other wonderful noise-producing things—fireworks and more fireworks. I remember we always wanted to stay up all night the night before, so that we could be up early enough in the morning. When our parents insisted upon our going to bed, we would plan that the one who got up the earliest was to call the rest of the bunch.

What a thrilling day it was, so distinctive from all other holidays! It was the one day in the whole year when we were allowed to make all the noise we wanted —and were even aided by our parents in the process.

How well I remember the day when one of my firecrackers didn't go off and I took it up to investigate the cause. As I was looking into it, it exploded right in my eyes, blinding me for the time, but not leaving any permanent results. That put a damper on that Fourth for me.

I was fortunate. "Lucky Lulie," they called me—a name that has stuck to me for good reasons. Now while it happened that I was fortunate, there were too many other children over the country who were not so fortunate—children who were blinded for life, others who had fingers and thumbs blown off, some who were killed outright, and still others who died later from the agonizing disease, lockjaw. We used to have a glorious, noisy celebration of the nation's birthday, but the aftermath in thousands of families was one of anguish and sorrow.

Do you know to what agency credit must be given for arousing the public to the crime of this useless maiming and killing method of celebrating the Fourth? It was the American Medical association.

For years they have been gathering and publishing statistics of the injuries and deaths resulting from firearms and fireworks used on the Fourth of July. They obtained their data from regular hospitals, private physicians, emergency hospitals and health departments. Their statistics showed in 1908 that 5,623 people were killed and injured. That year the association published the deaths and severe injuries in a different form. They tabulated the reports from forty-two of the largest cities, and showed that lawlessness and disorders were permitted in those cities and that the city governments were responsible. Public opinion was finally aroused to the enormity of this inhuman method of celebration, and laws were enacted prohibiting the sale of certain types of fireworks.

Now while the children perhaps do not enjoy the Fourth so intensely as we used to, because of its distinctiveness, still we feel that we can have them get along with a little less excitement in order to keep them from being maimed for life or killed.

However, even with the simpler and saner forms of celebration, there are some accidents, so I think I had better give a little first aid instructions. I discussed burns in yesterday's paper, so I will omit that phase.

BLANK CARTRIDGE WOUND—

Remove all portions of the wad. Leave the wound open and, if necessary, have it opened further by a physician, so the oxygen of the air (in which the lockjaw bacillus will not grow) will reach it. Pour in full strength peroxide of hydrogen. This liberates oxygen. The anti-tetanic (lockjaw) serum should be given at once. When this serum is given, there need be no fear of death from lockjaw.

CUTS AND WOUNDS—

First, remove all particles of dirt that can be removed. Cleanse with boiled water or pour in full strength peroxide of hydrogen. This liberates oxygen. Paint over with half iodine and alcohol, and put a sterile piece of gauze over the wound until a physician can be seen, if the cut or wound is of any size.

A HAPPY NATIONAL BIRTHDAY TO YOU!

Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Note to Readers—Any reader of this column who sends me a stamped and self-addressed envelope will receive without charge my two multigraphed articles on "What Every Preserve Closet Should Have" and "Eight Popular Pickles." The first article includes recipes for Apple Jelly, Plum Butter, Plum Conserve, Raspberry Jam, Cucumber Pickles and Piccalilli or Green Tomato Relish. The second article includes recipes for Dill Pickles, Mixed Pickles, Dixie Relish, Corn Relish, Chili Sauce, Mustard Pickles, Pepper Relish and Plain Cucumber Pickles. Please do not use a very small envelope, as these two articles comprise three typewriter-size sheets of paper, which will not fold into a tiny envelope.

TO CAN CORN—Remove husks and silk from freshly picked corn (choose tender, juicy corn which has not yet reached the starchy stage) and put the cobs into a cheesecloth bag; lower the bag into boiling water from one to three minutes (if very young ears, one minute will do, otherwise two or three) then remove from boiling water and plunge the bag into cold water for an instant, only. Now cut corn from the cob by first cutting just the tips of the kernels off, then removing lower part of kernels by a second cutting; this method gives a creamy consistency which is absent when the kernel is cut close to the cob with only one cutting.

Have hot sterilized glass jars ready. Fill them with the corn to within one inch of jar top, add one and one-half teaspoons of salt and sugar (mixed together) then also add boiling water to within one-half inch of jar top. Slip a wooden paddle, or a piece of clean bamboo, down inside of the jar, near the glass, to help the boiling water to get to the bottom of the jar, and also to remove air bubbles, then put on new rubber, sterilized glass cap, put up top wire (do not press down side wire) and stand the jar on a wire rack or thickly folded cloth in your wash boiler canner in boiling water to cover jar.

Let water boil around jar for one hour, then remove, press down side wire, and let stand in ordinary room-temperature overnight. Second Day—Release side wire and boil jar in the canner exactly as on first day, removing and completely sealing at end of hour, and again letting stand overnight. Third Day: Release side wire, again boil the jar one hour in canner, but this time label and store after completely sealing and cooling. This method is safer than the One Period Cold Pack Method, for corn.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Spanish War veterans joined with the Women's Auxiliary last night for an informal social evening in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. The camp and auxiliary held short separate business sessions and met later for the program arranged by the auxiliary.

Mr. Hezmalhalch gave two vocal numbers, "Love's Awakening" and "Some Sweet Day." Miss Dorothy Danner was accompanist. Other numbers were given by Miss Elmer Long, whistler, and C. Carpentier, banjo player. Miss Lillian Lipstreu played "Ave Maria" on the piano. Later dancing and story telling were enjoyed.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

HAIR DRESSING

Can you wear your hair parted in the middle, drawn smoothly back and ended in a knot? If you can, you belong to the lucky ones. Not many faces can stand this severe simplicity. It looks well with a face that is fairly young, firm fleshed, clear colored, nicely featured. It looks best, perhaps, with an oval face, never with a thin one. It must go with a good chin, it is the last possible hair dressing style for the chinless girl.

In many ways it is the most attractive way of doing the hair. Puffs and pompadours, curls, waves, permanent or otherwise, buns and high placed knots have come and gone again and again, but always this quiet, classic style has held its own. In early and mid-nineteenth century days, when life was more leisurely and women's faces did not go into nervous wrinkles it was the one real style. But expressions change so every ten years or so and few of us can stand so very simple a frame for our faces.

Here's a good trick to know if your hair is rather limp and you want it to fluff around the ears. Part it in the middle and comb a generous amount over the front of the shoulders. Do up the back into a tight, flat knot as a foundation for the rest of the hair. Comb back the right hand portion, fasten temporarily with a pin above the knot. Comb back the right hand portion, comb it over the knot and twist the ends and fasten the twisted part with a shell pin just back of the right ear. This makes the hair fluff over the ear, because it supports it from in back. Now take the right hand portion, unpin it, twist the ends and fasten them, turning them under or making a flat knot, just behind the left ear.

Do you see how it's done? The hair crosses in back, concealing the under knot, giving a smooth and attractive finish behind and a fluff around the face.

Reader—I am sorry that you forgot to enclose the stamped addressed envelope with your inquiries as I have no way of replying to your communication, other than to state that all the cosmetics you mention are trade preparations, so I would not know if any of them caused the trouble.

The clipping you sent which had an actress' name attached to it was intended as advertising for a certain line of cosmetics.

Can you wear your hair like this?

As you have this tendency to superfluous hair, be sure that your creams are made from fine vegetable oils.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be asnwered in these columns in their turn. The Case of Jennie Brice Serial Story

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXXIV

"How old was the girl?"

"Nineteen."

"I think," I said slowly, "that if I were nineteen, and in love with a man, and hiding, I would hide as near him as possible. I'd be likely to get a window that could see his going out and coming in, a place so near that he could come often to see me."

"Bravo!" he exclaimed. "Of course, with your present wisdom and experience, you would do nothing so foolish. But this girl was in her teens; she was not very far away, for he probably saw her that Sunday afternoon, when he was out for two hours. And, as the going was slow that day, and he had much to tell and explain, I figure she was not far off. Probably in this very neighborhood."

During the remainder of that morning I saw Mr. Holcombe, at intervals, going from house to house along Union Street, making short excursions into side thoroughfares, coming back again and taking up his door-bell ringing with unflagging energy. I watched him off and on for two hours. At the end of that time he came back flushed and excited.

"I found the house," he said, wiping his glasses. "She was there, all right, not so close as we had thought, but as close as she could get."

"And can you trace her?" I asked.

His face changed and saddened. "Poor child!" he said. "She is dead, Mrs. Pitman!"

"Not she—at Sewickley!"

"No," he said patiently. "That was Jennie Brice."

"But—Mr. Howell——"

"Mr. Howell is a young ass," he said with irritation. "He did not take Jennie Brice out of the city that morning. He took Alice Murray in Jennie Brice's clothing, and veiled."

Well, that is five years ago. Five times since then the Allegheny river, from being a mild and inoffensive stream, carrying a few boats and a great deal of sewage, has become a raging destroyer, and has filled our hearts with fear and our cellars with mud. Five times since then Molly Maguire has appropriated all that the flood carried from my premises to hers, and five times have I lifted my carpets and moved Mr. Holcombe, who occupies the parlor bedroom, to a second-floor room.

A few days ago, as I said at the beginning, we found Peter's body floating in the cellar, and as soon as the yard was dry, I buried him. He had grown fat and lazy, but I shall miss him.

Yesterday a riverman fell off a barge along the water-front and was drowned. They dragged the river for his body, but they did not find him. But they found something—an onyx clock, with the tattered remnant of a muslin pillow-slip wrapped around it. It only bore out the story, as we had known it for five years.

The Murray girl had lived long enough to make a statement to the police, although Mr. Holcombe only learned this later. On the statement being shown to Ladley in the jail, and his learning of the girl's death, he collapsed. He confessed before he was hanged, and his confession briefly, was like this:

He had met the Murray girl in connection with the typing of his play, and had fallen in love with her. He had never cared for his wife, and would have been glad to get rid of her in any way possible. He had not intended to kill her, however. He had planned to elope with the Murray girl, and, awaiting an opportunity, had persuaded her to leave home and to take a room near my house.

PULVERIZED COAL

Railroads in Australia are experimenting with pulverized coal for their locomotives. Engines have been equipped with special devices and the first trials have proved quite satisfactory. A soft brown coal is used and by pulverizing it this fuel will develop heat in greater quantities than when burned in its natural state, and likewise a tender can carry more and the waste will be less.

MURPHY SHOWING STIRRING DRAMA

Rex Beach's 'The Barrier' Is Pleasing Audiences at Big Tent Theatre

"The Barrier" is holding audiences spellbound at the tent of Murphy's Comedians in Casa Verdugo. Each night at 8 o'clock this popular Rex Beach play is presented, and the cast is one of the best ever seen in a stock company on the Pacific coast.

The tent is located on Stocker street between Brand boulevard and Central avenue. Those who wish a front seat may come as early as 7:15 o'clock, states Manager J. A. Menard.

Popular prices and a good show are the combination which is serving to make Murphy's Comedians a byword in Glendale, Mr. Menard declares, and satisfied audiences nightly attest the ability of the cast to offer real entertainment.

Scaramouche Is Big United Theatre Bill

"Scaramouche" continues at the United theatre, Eagle Rock. This is considered Rex Ingram's best pictures since "The Four Horsemen" and is indeed a mighty piece of work, gorgeous in costuming, vital in theme, and produced in a magnificent setting.

The cast is perfect. There are thirty principals, each of whom is a star of sufficient magnitude to alone carry the average picture, and, in addition, there are 10,000 other persons in the cast. Rafael Sabatini, the author of the story, is one of the really outstanding writers of the day, and his novels rank at the top of the best sellers. Scaramouche, the chief character, is probably the greatest hero of modern fiction. Don't miss this picture if you love romance, adventure and truly remarkable acting.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE DENTIST

Uncle Wiggily was sitting at the table one morning eating breakfast with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, when, all of a sudden, the gentleman rabbit gave a jump in his chair and cried:

"Ouch! Oh, dear!"

"What's the matter?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Do you see the Fuzzy Fox or the Woozie Wolf coming?" and she looked anxiously out of the window.

"Oh, no, it isn't that," said Uncle Wiggily, holding his paw to his jaw. "But I bit hard on my sore tooth chewing this piece of strawberry pancake, and it aches—I mean my tooth aches."

"Then you should go to the dentist at once!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "It will never do to have an aching tooth."

"Oh, it doesn't hurt so much now," said Uncle Wiggily, twisting around in his chair. "It's stopped aching."

"Look here, Mr. Longears!" cried Nurse Jane, shaking her paw at him. "I believe you're afraid to go to the dentist! The idea! After the way you have talked to the animal boys and girls, telling them to go to the dentist, and not be afraid, then here you are, with a toothache yourself, and you're afraid to go. I'm ashamd of you."

"Oh, well, really now, Nurse Jane, it doesn't ache me a bit—truly it doesn't."

"Hum." sniffed the muskrat lady. "That's always the way it is. As soon as you speak of a dentist the tooth stops aching. You take my advice—have the tooth filled or pulled at once."

"I'll think about it," said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose as he finished his breakfast. He spoke no more about pain, and Nurse Jane wondered what he would do about his tooth. But Uncle Wiggily said nothing. Taking his hat and coat off the rack he hopped from the hollow stump bungalow.

"I'm going adventuring!" he called to Nurse Jane.

"Good luck!" she [illegible]ed him. "I hope your too[illegible]n't ache!"

But in spite of the kind wish, no sooner had Uncle Wiggily hopped about a mile, or a mile and a half or, perhaps, two miles, than, all of a sudden, he began to feel a terrible pain in his jaw.

"There's my tooth aching again!" he cried. "I'll go to the dentist and have him pull it. It's an old hollow tooth, anyhow."

Uncle Wiggily hopped toward the office of a good, kind old bear dentist who pulled teeth for the animals of Woodland. And the funny thing about it was, that the nearer the rabbit gentleman came to the dentist's office, the less his tooth ached.

Until, when he was about to hop up the dentist's steps, all of a sudden, the pain all went away.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I guess I don't need to have that tooth pulled after all. I'll go adventuring!"

He was about to turn away when the Bear, the dentist, suddenly opened the door of his office and cried:

"Hello, there, Uncle Wiggily! Did you come to have an aching tooth pulled?"

"Yes," replied the bunny, "I did, but it doesn't ache now, thank you. I'm going adventuring."

"You are not going adventuring!" laughed Mr. Bear. "You are coming right in here and let me pull that tooth. It won't hurt. Now be brave! As soon as you go away it will start aching again, unless I take it out. Come on, I have a lovely soft chair for you to sit in."

Gently, but firmly, Mr. Bear hooked his claws in the collar of Uncle Wiggily's coat and pulled him inside.

"I guess this is the end of my tooth," thought the rabbit.

Just then, along the path trotted the Woozie Wolf. He saw Uncle Wiggily going in the dentist's office.

"Ah, ha!" thought the Wolf. "I'll hide here near the steps and wait for him to come out. Uncle Wiggily will feel weak after he has his tooth pulled and I'll easily catch him." So the Wolf waited.

Dr. Bear put the bunny gentleman in the tooth chair. Then he said:

"Open your mouth, real wide!"

But when the rabbit thought of having his tooth pulled he jumped out of the chair and ran for the front door to get away.

"Here! Come back!" laughed Dr. Bear. "You can't do that!" Holding his tooth pulling hook in one jaw, the dentist bear raced after the rabbit. Out of the door rushed the bunny. After him came Dr. Bear. As soon as the Wolf, outside at the steps, saw Uncle Wiggily, the Wo[illegible] jumped up to catch the rabbit.

But just then out came Dr. Bear with his hook. And as the Wolf opened his mouth to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears, the dentist reached his hook in the bad chap's mouth and—pulled out a tooth!

"Wowch! Ow! Gurr!" howled the Wolf. "I didn't want a tooth pulled!"

"Well, Uncle Wiggily wouldn't let me pull his tooth, so I had to pull yours!" laughed Dr. Bear. And then the Wolf ran away howling. And when Uncle Wiggily saw what a coward the Wolf was, the bunny rabbit became brave.

"Go ahead, Dr. Bear, and pull my aching tooth!" said the rabbit, and the dentist did.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears. "It doesn't hurt hardly at all!"

Then he felt much better, and if the clock doesn't put one of its hands through the keyhole and tickle the doormat under the chin, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily mailing a letter.

ENDORSE SKYLINE HIGHWAY PROJECT

Plans Include Annexation To Glendale of 12 Square Miles of Territory

eight miles is our grade over 6 per cent."

Mr. Merrick then stressed the value of a skyline drive as a fire protection for the Verdugo hills, stating that if for no other reason, the project would be justified from this point of view. But the thought the speaker left with his audience was that the Verdugo Skyline drive would be to Glendale what the Mulholland Skyline is to Hollywood, another link in the chain of skyline highways that are opening up the unparalleled vistas of the Southern California hills, a project comparable in grandeur with the Ridge route to Bakersfield and the Rim of the World drive linking Big Bear and Little Bear lakes with the world below.

Praise For Glendale

M. V. Hartranft of Tujunga, who for fifteen years has been a leading factor in the "back to the hills" and "little farm" movements, then spoke endorsing the project and accepting Glendale as the logical city to carry it out.

"Glendale has grown up," he said. "It is hill wise, ambitious, imaginative and has the organization and wisdom necessary to formulate and project into reality the broad-gauge plans for such a project. Tujunga is really a part of Glendale, as is Sunland, geographically. But this beautiful group of hills we have inherited is a force beyond anything political. Our whole valley is concerned. We want the Verdugo Skyline drive. At $18 an acre, bonded and spread over forty years, such a highway is cheap as a fire protection alone."

As Mr. Hartranft spoke of the beautiful Verdugo hills, declaring that he once administered the very property where the group was assembled, the purple shadows gathered, and the evening air was suddenly redolent of sage.

Two Entrances

T. D. Watson, chairman of the Planning commission, spoke briefly, explaining a large map that had been prepared by the Glendale engineering department and stood in a prominent position. The proposed drive, he showed, would have two Glendale entrances, one from the north end of Brand boulevard and one from Verdugo road. These two entrances would fork together and the road continue on over the hills to Tujunga and Sunland.

The twilight deepened as Mr. Watson talked and a myriad lights sprang up in the Sparr Heights valley. Along Verdugo road the headlights of passing automobiles flashed in a continuous stream. One pictured, perhaps two years hence, a similar line of cars winding over the crests of the beautiful Verdugo hills.

Plan Another Meeting

Other speakers included F. P. Newport, Will E. Chapin, R. L. Ruddick, A. T. Cowan, and Councilmen S. S. Gilhuly and C. E. Kimlin. All endorsed the project heartily, the councilmen stating they were "sold on the idea," and would do everything possible to further it.

It was voted to call another meeting at a later date, when further plans for the development of this skyline drive through the green Verdugo hills will be worked out. Following is the list of those present:

Harry H. Merrick. R. L. Ruddick, W. L. Twining, H. E. Barnum, M. Walters, M. V. Hartranft Thomas B. Black, T. W. Watson, Councilman C. E. Kimlin, Lon J. Haddock, A. T. Cowan, H. A. Baldridge, A. F. CAMEL ATTACKS FILM EXECUTIVE

Hosea Steelman Badly Bitten By Savage Beast at Lasky's Ranch

Hosea Steelman, brother of Dr. C. Stuart Steelman, well-known optometrist, of 203 South Brand boulevard, was nearly killed last Monday morning by a large black camel at the Lasky Paramount Studio ranch, of which he is manager.

Mr. Steelman was feeding the camel when it suddenly turned on him, biting him seventeen times. He was knocked down by the animal, and would have been pawed to death if it had not been for the assistance of a fellow associate at the ranch, who came to his aid.

Known as Killer

Mr. Steelman is in a critical condition at the Hollywood hospital, where he is receiving the very best care.

This camel has taken many prominent roles in a number of the largest films. Douglas Fairbanks rode him in the feature, "The Thief of Bagdad," and he was also used in the filming of "The Ten Commandments." He has killed three people and injured several others.

Compromise Candidate Required, Is Claimed

fectually squelching the Davis boom by threatening to take the floor against him, is on the warpath with respect to Smith. Bryan objects to the New York governor as a wet.

Some of the men prominent in the Smith camp who see no immediate outcome of the deadlock, say they are powerless to break it so long as Smith continues to gain. They say the McAdoo people ought to be ready for a conference, but that, until the Smith vote drops off, too, a pow-wow of party leaders could hardly be brought about.

McAdoo Stands Firm

But if the Smith men think McAdoo is out of it, the McAdoo generals do not.

"We have withstood attacks all along the line," said Breckenridge Long, of Missouri, floor manager of the McAdoo forces, "and we have demonstrated that our line cannot be broken down. We have lost here and there, and probably will lose a few men, but we have a strong line, and the opposition will learn that it can stick."

Managers are always more optimistic than delegates, who usually weary of prolonged balloting. There is impatience and restiveness in the ranks of the delegates. The pressure to break the unit rule in several states is growing.

Reserve Power Myth

But the consensus of opinion continues to grow that neither McAdoo nor Smith even if they gain 100 votes more, can get a majority much less a two-thirds vote. The task is now to convince the leaders of the McAdoo and Smith campaigns of that fact. The favorite son delegations who constitute nearly a third of the votes are not pouring in enough votes to help either Smith or McAdoo. The much talked of reserve power for either Smith or McAdoo is proving a myth. There are more Smith votes to be polled but not to exceed 100 more.

The various meetings of delegations failed to indicate any big defections from any side. Under the circumstances the outlook was for another fifteen ballots. Indications are that the record of both Baltimore and San Francisco would be exceeded. In the words of an irreconcilable delegate instructed to vote for McAdoo until his name is withdrawn, "the first sixty ballots are always the weariest."

Davis or Ralston?

The compromise candidates who seem at the moment to have a chance for the nomination when the deadlock is broken appear to be John W. Davis, of West Virginia, Senator Ralston, of Indiana, James M. Cox, of Ohio, Senator Glass, of Virginia, Senator Underwood, of Alabama, and Newton D. Baker, of Ohio. Of these, the situation developing appears to favor Davis, Ralston, Glass and Underwood.

Narrowing the choice still further, the ultimate selection may be between Davis and Ralston, and a second deadlock may yet be in prospect when the convention shows its line up on the West Virginian and the senator from Indiana.

Eugene Moore's Auto Is Damaged by Fire

An automobile belonging to Eugene Moore of 1007 South Brand boulevard took fire on South Brand boulevard early this afternoon and was extinguished by chemicals, on the arrival of Engine No. 4 of the Glendale fire department. The fire is believed to have been caused by a backfire. Damage amounted to around $30, reports Chief A. H. Lankford.

POWER PETITIONS FILED WITH CITY

Special Committee Urges Officials Make Efforts To Protect City

was necessary to lay off ten men when the curtailment was ordered. Mayor Robinson said it was the first instance he had heard of where any industry in Glendale had to lay off men on account of the shortage, and asked more details about the matter.

May Lose Industry

Mr. Belcher told the mayor when the curtailment order was issued, the Glendale Engineering company, 643 West Colorado street, was employing fifty-four men. Working on a 25 per cent curtailment, based on the average consumption figured over a six-months' period, Mr. Belcher said the cut meant 50 per cent now, as the factory had been building up in the last six months.

Mayor Robinson wanted to know who issued the order and asked Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, if he had made the order. Mr. Diederich said that men from his department had visited all industries and probably had called at the firm concerned. Mr. Belcher then told the council that the heads of the company were looking for a site outside of Glendale because of the apparent shortage of power here.

Mayor Robinson directed W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to make a personal investigation of the matter and report back to the City Council.

Emergency Matter

W. A. Horn, former City Councilman and chairman of the emergency committee of the Kiwanis club which circulated the petitions, said:

"This is an emergency matter, as all of us know. The committee of Kiwanis members acted on an emergency basis. We felt that we saved time that would have been taken up by the City Council appointing a commission to look into the matter, and probably take the same steps as we did.

"This committee is not saying that a large plant should be installed that would call for the expenditure of $1,000,000 or more. The size of the plant and the needs of the city should be decided by the City Council.

"I offer this suggestion: Put all residences in the city on a permit basis. Candles and oil lamps can be burned in the homes, if necessary, and would mean a great saving of electrical energy which would go to the industries. If an occasion arose where any person desired to entertain or needed light for any legitimate purpose, let him get a permit from the City Council. That is only a suggestion, but I want to say that I would be willing to follow such orders, and I am sure there are hundreds of citizens of this city who would also be willing."

Says Company Busy

"The Edison company is taking steps to supply current," City Manager Stone said. "They are building up all available plants and making every effort to relieve the present emergency. On the advice of the State Railroad commission and the officials of the company, Mr. Diederich and myself are willing to stake our reputations that it is not necessary to spend money to put in a temporary plant, which would have to be junked in six months or a year and bring only what the junkman would offer for it."

After the committee left the council chamber, some of the members commented on the city manager's statement. They declared an auxiliary plant would not have to be "junked," that it would be good "insurance" against future shortages, that it would be a "club" to get a better rate out of the Edison company and, too, they declared municipal plants are not being junked but are paying the people dividends.

To Visit Power Site

Just before the discussion in the council chamber closed, the city manager said:

"At this time I want to ask the members of the City Council for permission to be absent from the city Saturday morning. I shall leave here tonight with two representatives, and go to Huntington Lake to make a personal investigation. I have been told what the situation there is, but I want to see for myself, so I can report to the people of Glendale and to the City Council the things as I find them and as I believe them to be."

The permission of the council for the absence was granted.

RALSTON LOOMS AS DARK HORSE

Indiana Senator Now In Third Place; Balloting Resumes Tonight

horses whose insistence in hanging in the race has provided the Smith-McAdoo impasse.

Shortly after 2 o'clock ex-Senator Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska began circulating a resolution that provides that starting with the sixtieth ballot, the low man on each ballot be dropped from consideration until only three would be left and then these three be permitted to fight it out.

Hitchcock was seeking to get sufficient support for the resolution before actually introducing it. There appeared to be considerable division of opinion as to its advisability.

Ralston in Race

Simultaneously with this agitation a spurt was begun by Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, under the careful tutelage of Tom Taggart.

Iowa, which has voted 26 for McAdoo consistently under the unit rule, waived it by unanimous agreement on this vote, and allowed the delegates to vote as they pleased. It disclosed a wide division, all candidates getting part of it.

Kansas, likewise, was getting restive under the McAdoo yoke. The usual "20 for McAdoo" from the Sunflower state was challenged on the fifty-first ballot, but it was withdrawn for the time being.

Senator Swanson, manager for Senator Glass of Virginia, denied at noon that Senator Glass had released his Virginia delegation of twenty-four, but reports that he had done so persisted in spite of the denial. These reports were lent further weight by a caucus taken among the Virginians right after the forty-sixth ballot. Sixteen of the twenty-four were said to favor McAdoo, but decided to stick to Glass until the old dominion could present a united front on some candidate.

Rumor Rockwell Quits

Simultaneously with McAdoo's drop, rumors became current on the garden floor that David Ladd Rockwell, McAdoo's pre-convention and floor manager, was to be displaced. These reports could not be confirmed.

McAdoo, accompanied by B. M. Baruch and T. L. Chadbourne, were in conference in a hotel across the street from the garden.

McAdoo at noon indicated that he had no intention of giving up the fight. He sent a letter to the leader of each state delegation supporting him, saying, among other things:

"It is not reasonable to expect the progressive forces which so largely control this convention to capitulate to the minority. This would not be democratic. We can win this fight if the progressive lines hold firm."

The forty-seventh ballot—which made Democratic convention history in 1912—still brought no clarification in the situation and no break in the lines of the leaders.

McAdoo had 484.4, Smith 320.1, with all the favorite sons hanging on grimly.

McAdoo dropped below 500 on the first ballot of today's session, due largely to the defection of Oklahoma whose twenty votes were transferred to Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

Forty-two ballots were behind them and another weary day ahead, making it virtually certain that the forty-four ballots in San Francisco in 1920, and the forty-six required for Wilson's nomination at Baltimore in 1912 would be outstripped by this turbulent gathering.

Hold Conferences

Leaders of the rival factions came to the garden fresh from a series of conferences, the most significant of which was held in the Waldorf just before 10 a. m. and was participated in by George E. Brennan of Illinois, Joseph M. Guffey of Pennsylvania, Norman E. Mack of New York and Tom Taggart of Indiana.

Reports were current that after McAdoo has had an opportunity to show something for a few more ballots and Smith has had his run, Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, Taggart's candidate, is to be the heir-apparent.

Some Favor Ralston

Ralston was one of the "eligibles" named by William J. Bryan in his spectacular effort yesterday to swing the convention to one of his own choosing. The Democratic organizations in Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York would just as soon see Ralston get it as anyone if Smith is eliminated.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. John Heindeil, pastor of the English Lutheran church. The prayer finished, the forty-third ballot was started.

Forty-third ballot — McAdoo, 483.4; Smith, 319.1; J. W. Davis, 71; Underwood, 40; Ralston, 31; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Robinson, 44; Ritchie, 17½; Governor J. M. Davis, 3; Walsh, 1; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 4.

Changes Are Slight

Forty-fourth ballot — McAdoo, 484.4; Smith, 319.1; J. W. Davis, 71; Underwood, 39; Ralston, 31; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Robinson, 44; Ritchie, 17½; Governor Davis, 7; Walsh, 1; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 4; Edwards of New Jersey, 1.

Forty-fifth ballot — McAdoo, 483.4; Smith, 319.1; J. W. Davis, 73; Underwood, 38; Ralston, 31; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Robinson, 44; Ritchie, 17½; Governor Davis, 3; Walsh, 1; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 4.

Forty-sixth ballot — McAdoo, 485.9; Smith, 319.1; J. W. Davis, 71; Underwood, 38.5; Ralston, 31; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Robinson, 44; Ritchie, 16½; Governor Davis, 3; Walsh, 1; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 4.

Forty-seventh ballot—McAdoo 484.4; Smith 320.1; Davis 75; Cox 54; Glass 24; Robinson 45; Ritchie 16½; Governor Davis 3; Walsh 1; Saulsbury 6; Owen 4.

Forty-eighth ballot—McAdoo 483.5; Smith 321; J. W. Davis 70.5; Underwood 38.5; Ralston 41; Cox 54; Glass 25; Robinson 44; Ritchie 16½; J. M. Davis 3; Walsh 1; Saulsbury 6; Owen 4.

Forty-ninth ballot — McAdoo 462.5; Smith 320.5; J. W. Davis 63.5; Underwood 42; Ralston 57; Cox 53; Glass 24; Robinson 45; Ritchie 16½; J. M. Davis 2; Walsh 1; Saulsbury 6; Owen 4.

Fiftieth ballot—McAdoo 461½; Smith 320½; J. W. Davis 64; Underwood 42½; Ralston 58; Cox 54; Glass 24; Robinson 44; Ritchie 16½; Governor Davis 2; Walsh 1; Saulsbury 6; Owen 4.

The Oklahoma vote of twenty for Senator Robinson was challenged on the fiftieth ballot and a poll demanded.

The Oklahoma poll showed ten for Robinson and nine for Ralston, with one absent. Under the unit rule the entire vote was ordered cast for Robinson.

Fifty-first ballot — McAdoo, 442.5; Smith, 328; J. W. Davis, 67.5; Underwood, 43; Ralston, 63; Cox, 55; Glass, 25; Robinson, 43; Ritchie, 16.5; Governor Davis, 2; Walsh, 2.5; Saulsbury, 6; Owen 4.

Fifty-second Ballot — McAdoo, 412.5; Smith, 320.5; J. W. Davis, 59; Underwood, 38.5; Ralston, 93; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Ritchie, 16.5; Robinson, 42; Walsh, 1; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 4; George Gordon Battle, 20; Governor Bryan, 6.

Missouri swung into the Ralston column on the fifty-second ballot, putting the Hoosier senator third in the running.

Fifty-third ballot—McAdoo, 423.5; Smith, 320.5; J. W. Davis, 63; Underwood, 42.5; Ralston, 94; Cox, 54; Glass, 25; Robinson, 43; Ritchie, 16.5; Saulsbury, 6; Owen 4, Governor Bryan, 6.

Fifty-fourth ballot — McAdoo, 427; Smith, 320½; J. W. Davis, 59; Underwood, 40; Ralston, 92; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Robinson, 43; Ritchie, 17½; Walsh, 1; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 3; Bryan, 7; Roosevelt, 1.

Menace to Glendale Is Told At Association Meet, Protection Urged

The Glendale Advancement association will co-operate with the fire control committee of the Chamber of Commerce in forming a forst fire fighting unit here, it was decided at the meeting of the association held today noon at the Harriett Mae Tea Room.

Henry Jaacke, a former fireman in eastern cities, told the need of fire protection and additional fire fighting equipment for Glendale, and urged the association to assist the sub-committee of the Citizens' Bond committee to secure more apparatus and men for Glendale.

J. F. Chandler declared the water supply here was also inadequate in case of a big fire, and urged that protection should come first and the cost of extra equipment and men be considered second.

President C. W. Ingledue reported that work will start on the new hotel within a few days. T. J. Fambrough spoke on the petitions being circulated on the division of gasoline taxes.

Prof. Charles Lindsay of Occidental Is Speaker At Rotary Club

Choosing for his topic "Civilization at the Crossroads," Professor Charles Lindsay of Occidental college this noon addressed the Glendale Rotary club at its weekly luncheon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse on North Central avenue. The speaker thoughtfully considered the problem of advancement or dissolution that seems to confront the world.

"Our material progress has outstripped our moral and ethical progress," he said. "Modern science and industry have combined to create a Frankenstein that some think may destroy us. We must instill in our institutions a soul, a spirit. America has been called a melting pot. It is not. The stuff we are putting in won't melt. I am in favor of further restricting immigration and amalgamating what we now have in the country, even if it takes a generation to make good American citizens of them."
